DISCUSSIONS ON WAR DEBTS ARE RESUMED

Roosevelt-Lindsay Conference Points to Early World Economic Parley

SECRETARY OF STATE WILL BE NAMED SOON

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (AP).—Resumption of war debts discussions today by President-elect Franklin Roosevelt and Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay, of Great Britain, led the two statesmen into the broad field of world economics.

A carefully-worded atatement given out by Mr. Roosevelt after the two-hour conference in the closely-guarded Roosevelt home disclosed only that much, but it was believed to point to an early world economic conference for all nations.

The President-elect of the United States arranged for another early meeting with Sir Ronald, who returned here today with the latest views of his Government.

TO NAME SECRETARY

He also prepared to announce his choice for Secretary of State—believed to be Senator Hull, of Tennessee—so that he and Sir Ronald could confer immediately.

The net result of the second Roosevelt-Lindsay meeting was the putting into motion of machinery required to bring about a readjustment of the world economic structure and quick action was believed in prospect. Sitting in his second-floor study where he and Ambassador Lindsay had just talked, Mr. Roosevelt read the following statement to newspapermen:

"The British Ambassador has given to Mr. Roosevelt unofficially the views of the British Government touching the broader aspects of the world economic and other situations.

NO SPECIFIC PROPOSALS

"The conversation between them was confined to the general aspect of the problems. No specific proposals relating to the World Economic Conference or intergovernment debts were discussed.

"Resumption of the conversations will take place at an early date. Mr. Roosevelt will ask the new Secretary of State when the choice is announced to confer unofficially on the same subjects."

Asked if the words "other situations" referred to the Far Eastern crisis, he again picked up the written statement and replied: "It says other situations and that is all."

FINDS JOKE IN SENTENCE

Zangara Laughs When Sent to Jail for Eighty Years In Shooting Trial

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 20 (AP).—As scornful of the law as when he tried to assassinate United States President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt last Wednesday night, Giuseppe Zangara pleaded guilty today to four counts of attempt to murder, and was sentenced to eighty years' imprisonment.

"Oh, judge, don't be stingy, give me a hundred years," the thirty-three-year-old prisoner shouted as he was led from the courtroom. Then, laughing in evident amusement, he fell in step with his guards and was led back to his prison cell.

SENTENCES CONSECUTIVE

Zangara's sentences of twenty years on each count, running consecutively, constitute life imprisonment at Raiford State Prison or hard labor in the Florida road camps.

However, should Mayor Anton Cermak, of Chicago, or Mrs. Joe J. Gill, prominent society woman, die of wounds they received from bullets fired by the assassin at the President-elect, the state will seek a first degree murder indictment and the death penalty. Cermak and Mrs. Gill were reported as continuing to show improvement at the hospital here.

Today's sentences were for trying to kill the President-elect, Russell Caldwell, Coconut Grove, Fla.; Miss Margaret Kruis, Newark, N.J., and W. J. Sinnott, New York policeman and the bodyguard of Mr. Roosevelt. The latter three were slightly wounded by the bullets Zangara's pistol sprayed into the crowd which surrounded the car occupied by the President-elect in Bay Front Park.

Cameron Sworn As Vancouver's Chief Constable

New Police Head Expected to Assume Duties Today—Solicitors Claim Mayor Taylor Not Qualified to Sit as Member of City Council —Judgment Involved

VANCOUVER, Feb. 20.—Another chapter to the involved legal tangle surrounding the appointment of a new police chief for Vancouver to succeed Colonel C. E. Edgett, dismissed by the Board of Police Commissioners, was added when John Cameron, appointed chief by the commission on Saturday, was sworn in late this afternoon.

Meanwhile, Vancouver's civic affairs were further tangled when a letter claiming that Mayor L. D. Taylor was not qualified to sit on the City Council was received by City Clerk Charles Jones from Williams, Manson & Gonzales, solicitors.

INJUNCTION GRANTED

The appointment of Chief Cameron was made while the British Columbia Court of Appeal, sitting in Victoria, was granting an interim injunction restraining the commissioners from appointing a new chief.

Cameron, until his appointment, Saturday, chief of the New Westminster police, was sworn in at 5 o'clock by City Clerk Charles Jones in the office of Mayor L. D. Taylor at the City Hall. It is expected that he will take over his new duties tomorrow morning.

SAYS MATTER CLOSED

Mayor Taylor earlier today had declared that the injunction enjoined the police commission from doing something it had already done, and as far as the commission was concerned the matter was finished.

Notification that the injunction had been granted was received by the commissioners while in session on Saturday, shortly after the board had appointed Cameron police chief, it was stated.

Enclosed in the letter received by City Clerk Jones was a certificate of encumbrance against a lot owned by Mayor Taylor, involving a judgment of $1,078 obtained nineteen years ago on February 13, 1914, by Hans Hansen, of New Westminster, now of Port Greville.

DOCUMEN REREGISTERED

The judgment was released in 1914, allowing Mr. Taylor to be a candidate the civic elections of 1915.

FIVE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Machine Plunges Down Out of Control at Ontario Lumber Camp

TIMMINS, Ont., Feb. 20 (CP).—Bodies of four men and a girl, killed in an airplane crash on Sunday, as they were returning from a Winter picnic, today lay in a lonely lumber camp in the Lake Kenogamissi district, fifty miles south of here.

Plans were laid for bringing the bodies to Schumacher by sleigh, over roads made almost impassable by snow, while investigations into the plane smash were started by the district coroner and representatives of the Civil Aviation Branch in Ottawa.

Pilot H. R. Clegg, North Bay, and his four passengers, all employees of a Schumacher store, went to their deaths when the plane nosed down out of control from a height of 200 feet soon after the takeoff.

LIST OF DEAD

Alma Tario, twenty-five-year-old bookkeeper, went to her death with three companions, Gordon Kanigsberg, formerly of Montreal; Norton Abraham, formerly of Iroquois Falls, and Lorne Bucknam, whose home was at Sudbury.

The four Schumacher people were members of a party returning from the Feldman Brothers lumber camps in the Wawaitan area on Sunday morning. Clegg was ferrying them back to South Porcupine, taking four on each trip. All but the four killed had been safely returned to Porcupine. Clegg had just taken off from the lake with the last party when the crash occurred.

MAY OVERTHROW FRENCH CABINET

Battle Over Cut in Salaries of Government Employees May Cause Downfall

PARIS, Feb. 20 (AP).—The Cabinet's life was jeopardized today by "warning" strikes by functionaries throughout France which tied up public services from half an hour to an hour and a half.

The Senate, working under threat of the State employees' menace, renewed talk of overthrowing the Cabinet if it wilted before such threats, while the Socialists pledged their support to the functionaries and it was believed certain they would desert the Government if the Senate's cut of pay to Government employees became a question of confidence.

The directors of the functionaries' organizations, which total 800,000 members, warned today's strikes were only preliminary to further action if the pay cuts were voted.

Says Canada Ready For Closer Relations With U.S. in Trade

Premier R. B. Bennett Indicates Broad Principles Necessary for Successful Reciprocity Treaty—Present No Time for Taking the Initiative

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 (CP).—Canada stands ready to enter closer commercial relations with the United States, but the present is not the time to take the initiative, Premier R. B. Bennett announced in the House of Commons today.

"Watch developments" was the effect of the Prime Minister's advice to the House when William Duff (Lib., Antigonish-Guysboro), introduced a resolution to open reciprocity negotiations with Washington. President-elect Franklin Roosevelt had pinned his political faith to reciprocal agreements with other nations, and the pending World Economic Conference might be the medium through which Canada could negotiate agreements, not only with the United States, but with other nations as well. In the meantime Parliament should take no premature steps.

FOLLOW SAME COURSE

"In my judgment," counselled Mr. Bennett, "all we can do is to follow the course that has been followed by successive governments—to indicate clearly our willingness to negotiate on terms which are fair and reasonable—we can only be ready and willing to avail ourselves of any proposals that are fair and reasonable and are not of a character that will involve injury to this country if speedily terminated."

The Prime Minister indicated certain broad principles which he believed should underlie a successful reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States.

FOR STIPULATED TIME

It should be in force for a stipulated number of years and not terminable by "the political caprice" of one nation. At the same time, keeping in mind the relative populations and industrial developments of the two countries, Canada could not accept terms which would destroy its national life.

MINISTER IN PERU HAS ROUGH TIME

Colombian Legation Broken Into by Mob—Cellar Ransacked and Furniture Smashed

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Feb. 20 (AP).—Fabio Lozano, Colombian Minister of Peru, declared on his arrival by airplane from Lima today, that early Sunday a mob of Peruvians broke into his legation, ransacked the wine cellar, drinking what they could find, and caused considerable damage elsewhere in the building.

The minister, accompanied by his wife and daughter, is en route to Bogota, having received orders last week to demand his passport as a result of the conflict between Colombia and Peru over the Leticia border territory.

A noisy demonstration started in the neighborhood of the legation at Lima, shortly after Saturday midnight, Sr. Lozano said. After the demonstrators had broken into the legation, he declared, they smashed heavy pieces of furniture. They burned some furniture, he added, and carried away some. He said all that could be saved were three large iron boxes which contained the legation archives.

The minister and his family arrived with no clothes except what they wore. They had no money and no baggage. He did not have a hat.

Says Five Liners Sold to Japanese To Be Broken Up

LONDON, Feb. 21 (AP).—Five British liners, including the Baltic and the Megantic of the White Star Line and the Caronia of the Cunard Line, are now en route to Japan, The Herald said today. They have been sold to the Japanese Government to be scrapped, the paper reported, adding that when they left England their destination was kept a close secret.

Frank Barnjum, Exponent of Timber Conservation, Dies in Europe

PARIS, Feb. 20 (CP).—Frank J. D. Barnjum, millionaire Canadian lumberman, died, after a week's illness, at Neuilly Clinic, where he had been receiving treatment.

Author as well as forestry expert, Mr. Barnjum of late resided at Annapolis, Maryland. His son was in Paris with him, while his widow is at present in Lynnfield, Mass.

HALIFAX, Feb. 20 (CP).—Frank J. D. Barnjum, who died in Paris on Saturday, was Canada's foremost advocate of reforestation. After retiring from active business about ten years ago, he set aside half his fortune for a one-man campaign to conserve the Dominion's "fast-vanishing forest resources."

His death occurred when he was returning from Italy, where he had inspected Premier Musolini's gigantic forestry system. He had gone to Italy on invitation of the chief of the country's forest service.

REPEAL IS NOW UP TO PEOPLE

U.S. Congress Approves Senate's Resolution—Conventions to Decide

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP).—The United States Congress today proposed to the States that prohibition, after its thirteen years of turbulent trial, be done away with by repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

The House of Representatives, by a vote of 289 to 121, exactly fifteen more than necessary, approved the repeal resolution passed last week by the Senate. Under it for the first time in United States history, conventions of the people are to decide whether the states shall ratify or reject a change in the constitution.

Thirty-six of the forty-eight states must ratify to carve the Eighteenth Amendment out of the United States charter and substitute for it a twenty-first. By its terms, also, the ratifications must all occur within seven years from today. With repeal, the amendment carries a specific prohibition of importation of intoxicating liquors into any states remaining dry.

IMMEDIATE ACTION

As though touched off by an electrical signal, immediately after the House vote, legislative action was started in more than half a dozen states to make ready for the conventions.

The House approval came in dramatic fashion as the dry minority fought against the floor of anti-prohibitionist votes. Confident from the first of victory, Speaker John Garner and party leaders forced the the vote under suspension of the rules, a drastic debate-curbing procedure.

COLOMBIAN PLANES REACH BATTLE ZONE

PARA, Brazil, Feb. 20 (AP).—Dispatches from Sao Paulo de Olivenca tonight reported the arrival at Tarapaca of eighteen Colombian airplanes.

The dispatches added that at the time the Colombian gunboat Barranquilla was trying to capture a Peruvian launch, the St. Efita, two Peruvian airplanes attempted to come to the rescue, but were forced to retreat because of the heavy bombardment from the Barranquilla's guns.

Price of Bar Silver Jumps At New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (AP).—The price of bar silver stepped up three-quarters of a cent to twenty-seven cents an ounce today, and futures contracts advanced nearly a cent above their Saturday's close.

Firming tendencies of the white metal were attributed largely to speculation based on the recent remonetization movement in Congress, where the House coinage subcommittee agreed to report to the full committee a tentative bill providing for monthly silver coinage at rising rates.

Silver futures aggregating 8,750,000 ounces were traded in on the National Metal Exchange. The record of the exchange for trading in the metal was established November 12, 1931, when 9,175,000 ounces changed hands.

Rush for Gold Property Spreading Southward

NEW WESTMINSTER, Feb. 20.—Activity in filing on gold claims which has been developing to abnormal proportions in the Cariboo is spreading southward, with the result that the mining recorder's office here is preparing for a similar rush during early Spring.

Following announcement that an old gold location on Harrison Lake is to be reopened this year, fourteen gold claims have been filed on Harrison Lake east of Silver Creek and were recorded at the local mining recorder's office since Thursday. A total of twenty-two gold claims has been filed here since the beginning of the year.

New Westminster mining district extends north and east to Hope, which at one time was a great mining cefitre. The district includes Harrison, Pitt and Stave Lakes, Chilliwack district and Hope district, all of which proved gold-bearing during the early days.

SEVERE FIGHTING IN JEHOL PRELIMINARY TO CAMPAIGN EXPECTED TO START TODAY

Definite Decision to Withdraw From League Made by Japanese Cabinet—Formal Notice to Geneva Next Month—Delegates to Disarmament Conference Also to Be Recalled

Naval Commanders Given Orders to Be on the Alert

CHINCHOW, Manchuria, Feb. 21 (AP).—Reports of severe fighting between Japanese and Chinese troops at Chaoyangssu, in the Province of Jehol, were received here today by the Rengo (Japanese) News Agency correspondent.

The Japanese asserted the Chinese attacked the Japanese garrison there at 10:30 o'clock Monday night, after which the Chinese retreated northward, leaving many dead.

The command of General Yoskimichi Suzuki, comprising veterans of the Shanhaikwan battle early in January, are hastening into Jehol Province via the Chinchow-Peipao Railway. The vanguard today neared Nanling, the occupation of which seems imminent this morning.

EXPECTED TO SEIZE PEIPAO

The Japanese troops also expected to seize shortly the city of Peipao, the terminus of one branch of the Peiping-Mukden Railroad. Peipao is a few miles over the boundary of Jehol and Manchuria.

Japanese reports were that the Japanese soldiers immediately set out in pursuit of the retreating Chinese at Chaoyangssu.

Chaoyangssu is a station just inside the Jehol border, and should not be confused with Chanoyang, in Hopeh Province. Nanling is seven miles northwest from Chaoyangssu.

The Japanese assert that Chinese troops belonging to General Tang Yu Lin's 107th Brigade had attempted to encircle Chaoyangssu and to attack the Japanese from the rear. This manoeuvre, according to the Japanese version, precipitated the conflict.

ORDERS TO PREPARE

TOKIO, Feb. 21 (AP).—Saying that Japan had decided to secede from the League of Nations, Admiral Mitsea Osumi, Japanese naval minister, today ordered the Japanese navy to be prepared for any emergency.

His instructions followed quickly upon fast-moving developments that were bringing to a head the Sino-Japanese dispute regarding Manchuria and the nearby Province of Jehol.

Although a Foreign Office spokesman said the Japanese assault on age-old Jehol might begin today, concurrent with the League of Nations' adoption of a report condemning the Japanese course in Manchuria, other military leaders here said the carefully-prepared and long-expected assault on Jehol might not start for several days.

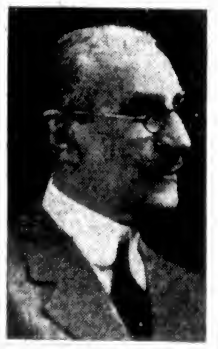

These statements were made particularly with reference to an engagement between Japanese and Chinese at Chaoyangssu, just within the Jehol border, from which the Chinese retreated with Japanese soldiers in pursuit, and the approach of the victors towards Nanling, near Chaoyangssu, the occupation of which was held imminent by the Japanese.

EXPLAINS DECISION

Meanwhile, the House of Peers heard the foreign minister, Viscount Yasyua Uchida, explain the Cabinet's decision to withdraw from the League if the assembly accepts the Manchurian report.

Four Ships In Distress Near Italy

ROME, Feb. 20 (AP).—Storms caused considerable trouble today for ships in Italian waters.

Two coastwise freighters, the Priaruggia, 300 tons, and the Constante, a 2,000 tonner were grounded, and tugs stood by to take off the crews. The tanker Inea, a 2,600-ton ship of the General Italian Petroleum Company, overturned as she was entering the port of Venice, in a blizzard. The crew leaped into the water and were picked up.

Nine of the crew of the steamer Vittorio arrived at Capri in small boats, saying their ship had sprung a leak and was sinking. They had rowed fifteen miles. The tenth member of the crew drowned.

ADMIRALTY TO USE B.C. WOOD

F. P. Burden Advised Douglas Fir Will Be Specified in Contracts

British Columbia is assured of steady and increasing volume of timber purchases from Imperial Government orders under the Commissioner of Works, the War Office, the Air Ministry and other departments, F. P. Burden, British Columbia Agent-General at London, said yesterday. Mr. Burden has received advices, through the London office, of the additional adherence of the Admiralty to a definite plan of Empire preference in which softwood requirements will be taken from Canada, and contracts for work will so specify.

The advices came through Alfred Bossom, member in the Imperial House for Kent, after correspondence with Sir Philip Sassoon on behalf of the departments concerned.

FIR IS SPECIFIED

"This means that all departments of the Imperial Government are specifying Canadian softwoods, principally Douglas fir, and that a very satisfactory volume of business will accrue to British Columbia from these sources," Mr. Burden stated.

The original lead of the London County Council has been followed by all Government departments, and more generally throughout Britain by towns and boroughs where the principal of Empire preference is being fully applied. Mr. Burden said he could not, without further reference, ascertain the volume of business implied in the arrangement, but believed it would amount to a considerable total in the course of a year.

There was no mistaking the friendly sentiment and the will to trade, and acceptance of Canadian sizes and standards of lumber was an important fillip to overseas sales in the British market, the agent-general concluded.

English Weather Cold and Foggy

LONDON, Feb. 20 (CP).—A sharp cold spell with intermittent snow flurries has gripped the whole of England following the mild spell it had recently been enjoying.

Many roads in the north country are blocked by snowdrifts and severe blizzards prevented any outdoor amusement over the week-end in many districts. Along the coast lifeboats have been launched to assist the small vessels in finding their way. A heavy fog lies over the water.

DEMONSTRATION AT CONSULATE

Nine Arrested When Japanese Agitators Give Trouble in Seattle

SEATTLE, Feb. 20 (AP).—Three women, one of them a nineteen-year-old girl, and six men were arrested here today, when authorities broke up a demonstration in front of the Japanese Consulate, in the Central Building.

With the consular authorities receiving advance warning of the demonstration plans, police were notified, and Mayor John F. Dore led them in person in disbanding the agitators. A cordon of police was thrown in front of the building, 120 in all, with a dozen or more Japanese also standing guard.

WATCHED FROM WINDOWS

K. Uchiyama, Japanese Consul, watched the activities, which lasted about twenty minutes, from the windows of his offices.

Arriving in front of the consulate about 2 p.m., one of the first of the demonstrators carried with him an armful of banners, some of them printed in Japanese and decrying "Imperialistic War." He was promptly arrested, and his banners seized.

Others arrived shortly, forming a gathering of about fifty in all, but police kept them moving.

Skirmishes also occurred between police and demonstrators on other corners.

Policemen Injured Driving Mob From Dock at Vancouver

Clashes Frequent as Unemployed and Communists Attempt for Two Hours to Prevent Workmen Boarding Ship for Anyox

VANCOUVER, Feb. 20 (CP).—Two constables were injured, several officers slightly hurt, and scores of rioters suffered from the effects of police batons here, tonight, when City and Royal Canadian Mounted Police battled with several hundred unemployed and Communists in a riot which broke out about 6 o'clock in the vicinity of the Canadian National dock, at the foot of Main Street.

Rioters were endeavoring to prevent a number of men from boarding a steamer for the North, where work awaited them.

TWO-HOUR BATTLE

During a melee, Mounted Constable John Barker suffered a broken ankle when his mount slipped and fell, carrying its rider with it. Police waged battle with the mob for more than two hours before finally dispersing the rioters. One arrest was made.

Sixty officers from city and R.C.M.P. forces staged a desperate battle with the demonstrators.

Sidney Stiller was arrested, charged with assaulting Constable R. McDonald, city mounted officer, with a stone. McDonald was not badly injured.

Following the first outburst of fighting, frequent clashes occurred until 8:15 p.m., when the rioters were finally dispersed.

TIM BUCK SENT TO HIGHER COURT

KINGSTON, Ont., Feb. 20 (CP).—Charges Tim Buck threatened to kill guards, gave the riot signal by pulling a power switch, and in other ways led Portsmouth penitentiary convicts in their revolt last October 17, were heard today at the former Communist party leader's preliminary hearing on charges of rioting and damaging prison property.

Buck was sent up for trial, the twenty-first convict to be committed on rioting charges. William McCrea, alleged to have handled an acetylene torch used to release prisoners, and Paul Demers, were given hearings with Buck toda

Silver Proposal Before Congress Is Watched Here

Plan to Partially Remonetize Silver on Increasing Price Levels Would Have Secondary Effect in British Columbia—Reopening Mines

PLANS to boost the price of silver on this continent by taking 40,000,000 ounces per month over a specific period into coinage, through the issue, in return for the bullion, of silver certificates which would be legal tender, may be laid before the United States House of Representatives, according to stock wires received here yesterday by brokers.

SILVER PROPOSAL

The plan was said to be under consideration by a subcommittee on coinage, and proposes purchase of silver at forty cents per ounce, with an increase of ten cents per ounce after three months, an additional ten cents after six months, rising finally to seventy-five cents per ounce in regular monthly advances. Silver, at recent market quotations, was selling at twenty-five cents an ounce.

WOULD AFFECT B.C.

With a normal silver output between 10,000,000 and 11,000,000 ounces, British Columbia mining interests would be much interested in the proposals, if they were enacted as legislation by the United States Congress. The price of forty cents an ounce would mean immediate revival of the British Columbia silver industry, if this level could be established and maintained on the open market, it was said. In addition, mines which have silver as a byproduct, would be brought into more profitable operation.

Harry B. Thomson, well-known business man of the city, received the following message on the subject over the teletype wires of Melville & Bate, Ltd., Winch Building. The dispatch was from Washington, and read as follows:

WOULD ADVANCE PRICES

"Washington, Feb. 20.—The draft of what Chairman Somers called a conservative bill to cause a greater use of silver in our monetary system, was completed today by a House coinage subcommittee. As it now stands, the measure would let the Secretary of State buy as much as 40,000,000 ounces of silver bullion a month, coin it into silver dollars, and issue silver certificates against the dollars to pay for the bullion. These silver certificates, unlike those now issued, would be full legal tender.

"All bullion the treasury received, in excess of the amount needed for silver dollars, would be kept in the treasury vaults. Purchase of silver would begin at forty cents an ounce, instead of the present market price of twenty-five cents, and increase to fifty cents in three months, to sixty cents in another three months, and then to a minimum of seventy-five cents, at the rate of half a cent a month."

Stabilization of silver, while not claimed for the measure, is no doubt an aim of the proposed bill. No one country could achieve this, it is pointed out, but any plan to purchase additional quantities of silver on this continent would have considerable effect on production elsewhere.

B.C. INTERESTED

Any action by the United States to endeavor to stabilize silver at forty cents an ounce, through monetization, would have immediate effect on silver mines of the province, which produced 10,470,000 ounces of silver in 1927, and 7,200,000 ounces last year, it was stated by officials of the British Columbia Mines Department.

If the effort were successful, and forty cents became the ruling price for silver, it would mean an immediate pick-up in the value of silver mined in the province to the extent of between $1,500,000 and $1,750,000 a year on current output, with every prospect that production would return to higher levels, with a correspondingly greater return.

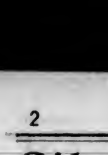

At forty cents, most of the British Columbia properties could be put in operation on a profitable basis, due to recent and widespread economies, it was stated.

PRODUCTION DOWN

The actual production from British Columbia silver properties and byproduct mines in 1927 was 10,470,000 ounces; in 1928 it was 10,627,000 ounces; in 1929 it was 9,915,000 ounces; in 1931 it was 7,521,000 ounces, and in 1932, 7,200,000 ounces. The values varied greatly, in a downward trend. Forty-cent silver would be regarded as a godsend by most of the British Columbia properties if it becomes an accomplished fact.

British Columbia authorities were greatly interested in word of the bill said to have been prepared for the United States Congress, though reserved in their opinion as to the feasibility of the plan. If the silver market is sustained by the purchase of 40,000,000 ounces monthly, it would have an undoubted effect on the mines of this province, irrespective of whether or not the lead was followed by other countries.

when he was elected Mayor. The judgment was reregistered today, and Ian Shaw, barrister, appearing for Mr. Hansen, took the position that the release was for one year only.

The letter received by the city clerk stated that Mayor Taylor is the owner of no other property than this parcel.

Mayor Taylor, on being appraised of the letter, stated if the registry records had been searched back far enough, it would have been found that the Hansen judgment was released years ago.

The city clerk will bring the letter to the attention of the City Council at its next meeting.

NOT USUAL PRACTICE

Swearing in of Cameron by City Clerk Jones is something of a departure from usual procedure. In the past it has been the practice of having a police magistrate administer the oath of office. Mr. Jones, however, declares that he acted in his capacity of a justice of the peace for the Province and that he had been advised by counsel that he was fully within his rights in administering the oath.

Before taking the oath, Chief Cameron consulted J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., on the advisability of such action in view of Saturday's action of the Court of Appeal enjoining the police commissioners from acting on the resolution dismissing Colonel C. E. Edgett and from appointing a successor. In effect Mr. Farris advised Chief Cameron that he could proceed to take the oath.

SAYS CANADA READY FOR CLOSER RELATIONS WITH U.S. IN COMMERCE

Third, no successful agreement could be framed so that one customs change affected every article in the agreement.

"Any trade treaty," said Mr. Bennett, "which creates a channel of trade and then may be terminated at the caprice of one country, or without notice to the other, is fatal to the interests of both, because there is always a conflict of interest."

The Prime Minister asked the Duff resolution be not forced to a vote in view of the attitude of the United States President-elect and the greater possibilities of the World Economic Conference.

DEBATE CONTINUES

Debate on the Duff resolution, however, continued. In introducing it, the Nova Scotia member elaborated on the importance of freer entry into the United States for Canadian fish. He suggested throwing open Canadian ports to American schooners two months of the year and allowing American fishermen to trans-ship their catch and send it to United States cities in bond. He could not see how the trans-shipment could injure the interests of Canadian fishermen, while the icing, packing and transportation would bring a large volume of labor.

The only salvation for the Canadian fisherman was in the extension of the market in the United States.

He did not agree with those who asserted that there should be a separate tariff for the Maritime Provinces from that prevailing throughout Canada, said Mr. Duff. But the Government could do nothing better than to try to obtain a market for her fishermen.

FINDS JOKE IN SENTENCE

INSISTS ON OWN GUILT

Louis Twyman, defence counsel, who entered Zangara's guilty pleas, said the Italian had insisted he was guilty. 'He says 'No, no, I not crazy,' when we ask him if he thinks he is insane," Twyman told the court.

"He has one gruesome regret. He is sorry he did not succeed in his attempt on the life of President-elect Roosevelt. He scoffs at the idea he may be insane."

No definite request was made by the defence for leniency, but R. M. McCaskin, third defence attorney, asked that no attention be taken of "cries from every city and crossroads in the nation for the blood of this man."

TROUBLE AT BOAT

The trouble arose when men hired to work in the plant of the Granby Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company at Anyox were about to board the Ss. Prince Rupert. Fourteen of the fifteen men were safely escorted aboard the boat, but the fifteenth fled at the outbreak of trouble and could not be found.

Police had not anticipated any serious trouble and there were but four constables from the city force, under Sergeant E. Annesley, at the dock when several hundred shrieking and shouting men rushed the dock approach and showered the would-be passengers with stones and brickbats, some rushing in, kicking and striking at the officers.

REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVE

The officers fought desperately, and in spite of their lack of numbers succeeded in holding the rioters back from the dock, and just when they were about to be overwhelmed by the mob, they were reinforced by twenty-five reserves, under Acting Deputy Chief C. Tully.

Further reinforcements arrived in the persons of twenty-six officers from the R.C.M.P. force.

The arrival of the last contingent completed the temporary rout of the rioters.

Just as the mob was in flight, pursued by the police, Constable Barker's horse slipped and fell. The officer was unable to throw himself clear and was pinned to the pavement by his mount.

PURSUED BY POLICE

The mob was pursued by the police, who swung their clubs and batons and made no effort to take prisoners until Constable R. McDonald was struck by a stone.

For a time the rioters remained at discreet distances from the dock, where the police took up their position, but from time to time regained their courage and made attempts to force their way onto the dock approach, but in each case were driven back.

During a retreat from the dock approach at 7:30 p.m., one rioter drew a heavy hammer from beneath his coat and crashed it through the plate glass window of a Japanese cleaning and pressing established at 229 Main Street. Pursuing officers were unable to capture the man.

At 8:15 p.m. the Ss. Prince Rupert pulled out from her berth and the police had little difficulty in clearing the streets.

TRUST WILL SAVE TREES

pleasure of his acquaintance during the time that he was in the city negotiating the purchase of 2,000 acres of standing timber on Vancouver Island. This stand will be retained by the Barnjum Foundation Trust, it was announced by R. W. Hibberson, secretary of the trust, who purchased the tract for Mr. Barnjum. His son, George Barnjum, will take the presidency of the trust.

The tract, which carries exceptionally rich stands of old timber, as well as younger growth, is situated in the Quamichan district, between Cowichan Lake and Duncan. The Lower River Road passes through it, and some parts front on the water. The land was retained in trust in accordance with Mr. Barnjum's desire to preserve the trees for posterity, as he felt, if this land were turned over to provincial or municipal authorities, it would be stripped of its valuable wealth. Under the trust agreement, the land will pass from one generation to another, sufficient funds having been set aside to pay taxation costs.

HOLDINGS IN EAST

Not only in Victoria was Mr. Barnjum known for his efforts towards preservation of timber. He also has holdings of a 300-acre stand of spruce in the Cape Scott area and about 300,000 acres of forest land in Eastern Canada.

While on Vancouver Island he deplored the manner in which timber was being sacrificed, and for this reason, his trust was founded. He frequently contributed letters to the press advocating preservation of timber stands.

Mr. Barnjum was a valued member of the Victoria Assembly of the Native Sons of Canada and had the distinction of being the first person outside British Columbia to join the local organization.

SEVERE FIGHTING IN JEHOL PRELIMINARY TO EXPECTED CAMPAIGN

Admiral Osumi issued orders to all commandants at naval bases and fleet commanders that, since Japan had decided to secede from the League, the personnel of the entire Japanese navy should be on the alert and be prepared to meet any possible emergency.

One of the admiral's aides explained that no hostilities with any power were envisioned, but that the minister decided to impress upon his subordinates that a crisis was confronting the Empire.

Word that the Cabinet stands ready to leave the League was sent to the chief Japanese delegate at Geneva, Yosuke Matsuoka. He is expected to leave the League seat as soon as the assembly has voted on the report, going either to Paris or London, or returning home directly by way of Siberia.

The Rengo (Japanese) News Agency said formal notice of Japan's withdrawal from the League would be dispatched to Geneva about the middle of March, by which time Mr. Matsuoka is expected to be in Tokio.

ALSO TO WITHDRAW

In addition to withdrawing her representative from the League itself, Japan will recall Vice-Admiral Osami Nagano and Lieutenant-General Yoshiji Tatekawa, the delegates to the disarmament conference.

"It is futile to continue to discuss disarmament in that hostile atmosphere," said a spokesman for the War Office.

At the Navy Office it was said Japan remained loyal to the Washington and London Naval Treaties and that the Government hoped to participate in a conference with other signatories to those pacts in 1935.

The Japanese Diet was scheduled to hold two secret meetings today to hear the Government's explanation of its decision regarding Japan's possible withdrawal from the League, the House of Peers meeting in the morning and the Lower House in the afternoon.

The Privy Council will meet tomorrow to review the Cabinet's decision. Foreign Minister Yasyua Uchida was expected shortly to confer with the elder statesmen, whose opinions are sought during crises in national affairs.

So far the Cabinet's decision to quit the League seems to have met with the united support of all political parties, except that of the Proletarians, who oppose withdrawal from the League on the ground that such action might lead to war.

The Proletariana, however, agree with the other parties in denouncing the League's recommendations for ending the Sino-Japanese dispute.

Japanese newspapers consider the national feeling of unity regarding withdrawal as the first step toward the establishment of an Asiatic Monroe doctrine, although they recognize that the success of such a doctrine would require the friendly co-operation of Japan and China in Manchukuo.

Such co-operation, the newspapers say, is hoped for eventually.

Meanwhile, the newspapers strongly denounce the League for encouraging the Chinese in refusing to negotiate with Japan, thereby precipitating the present dangerous situation.

Reactionaries, meanwhile, whose influence is increasing as a result of irritation of national sentiment, are quoted in the newspapers as contending that the white races are purposely stirring up the Asiatic peoples to fight one another "lest they combine against the West for the purpose of achieving emancipation."

EXPLODING THE MAGAZINE

PEIPING, China, Feb. 20 (AP).—The Japanese invasion of Jehol will explode the whole powder magazine of North China, Finance Minister T. V. Soong, of the Nanking Government, said tonight, after his return from Jehol City, capital of the province.

"Outwardly, everything seems calm, but the limit of endurance has been reached," Mr. Soong said, "and, if trouble comes, I am sure the people of North China will prove as patriotic as the people of the South showed themselves to be last year at Shanghai.

"As an illustration, when I brought up the question of financing the defence of Jehol, in conversation with the northern bankers, it was not necessary to make any appeal for money. Without hesitation they subscribed an amount which I named as sufficient to cover the minimum requirements of the coming months."

TRADE ENVOY VISITS CITY

J. L. Wilson Goode Is Appointed Commissioner for Great Britain in B.C.

J. L. Wilson Goode, recently appointed trade commissioner for Great Britain in British Columbia, arrived here yesterday to confer with members of the Provincial Government, Chamber of Commerce, and business leaders in this city.

Mr. Goode has come here from the West Indies, where he served as trade commissioner for nine years. Prior to his appointment to the West Indies, he served as commercial secretary at Washington. He also served terms as trade commissioner in India and South Africa. This is his first visit to Canada, and he is not only impressed by the magnitude of the country, but also its varied enterprises and natural resources.

TREATY BENEFITS

While both Canada and the West Indies are benefiting now from the trade treaty ratified some three years ago, there is every prospect that greater advantages will be derived in years to come, Mr. Goode said.

As a result of the increase in exports to Canada from the West Indies, the citrus growing industry has been placed on a large scale, and growers are now able to grade their products for export, market on a co-operative basis, and compete with other organizations which have heretofore considered Canada as their own chosen territory.

CANADA GAINS

In a similar way the treaty has redounded to Canada's benefit, and will continue to do so as the two countries develop and expand, he stated.

Mr. Goode said that during his recent tour of Great Britain, prior to coming here, he found a spirit of optimism existing over the advantages to be derived from the treaties consummated at the Imperial Conference. While it will take some time for these treaties to have any appreciable effect on the trade of the various Dominions, Mr. Goode believes that the enthusiasm and optimism over the results of the conference will not wane.

Mr. Goode will maintain his office in Vancouver. He expects to leave for the Mainland tomorrow.

HEAD OFFICE FOR CAMPAIGN TO BE OPENED

Emergency Employment Drive Workers to Occupy Central City Corner

MANAGER SAYS MORE VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

With sufficient canvassers to cover the whole district obtained, Alfred Carmichael, manager of the Victoria and District Emergency Employment Plan, told directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday that there would be the most perfect survey ever made of the city and environs. Pledge cards are going to nearly 10,000 homes. He was anxious to get 600 workers to volunteer.

Fred M. McGregor stressed the importance of having the professional men of the city enlist themselves in the work. He suggested that the captains should telephone professional men who had not already volunteered, and urge them to lend their aid.

The use of the premises at the northwest corner of Broad and View Streets, formerly the headquarters of Branson, Brown bond house, has been donated to the management of the campaign for use during the progress of the drive. Within the next few hours Mr. Carmichael and his staff will take up their quarters there.

At the present time the management of the campaign is devoting its energies to the securing of the full complement of volunteer workers. These are coming in well, but it is very important that the full number be secured without delay.

VOLUNTEERS' MEETING

One reason for this is that there will be a meeting of all the volunteers on Monday, when the whole situation will be fully discussed and plans completed for the campaign proper, which opens the following day, and will continue for two weeks.

DEMAND KNOWN BY LUMBERMEN

J. O. Cameron Contends Crating Material From Baltic Is Preferred

J. O. Cameron informed the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday, that there was little chance for British Columbia lumber products invading the British market, as far as crating lumber was concerned. Clear lumber and heavy construction timber would be supplied from this province under the present arrangements entered into, as long as the lumber men were able to produce and supply it from here.

Oregon and Washington were out of the British market, as compared with British Columbia, under the present arrangements. The only heavy timber now able to find its way into the British market was that supplied at a higher price than it could be supplied from this province during the time that mills happened to be closed down here, owing to a general falling off in the demand.

This matter came before the chamber in a letter from R. T. Elliott, who called attention to newspaper criticisms that British Columbia lumber men were not meeting the demand in the Old Country.

KNOW THE NEEDS

Mr. Cameron said that it was absurd to say that the lumbermen did not know what the demands were in Great Britain. The matter for years had been gone into, and a representative of the lumbermen was now located in England, going constantly into the situation there.

Britain could buy cheaper in Russia, Finland and Sweden, the class of lumber for which there was the greatest demand in the Old Country, namely, crating lumber. It cost $9 a thousand at the lowest to snip from here to Britain. Against this the Baltic lumber used there was brought in at $3 a thousand. This latter was similar to the balsam here, and was better for the purpose intended than was fir.

The Provincial Governments had forced some local lumber into use in Britain by requiring that liquor imported here was crated in British Columbia lumber. In spite of this, the general use of fir for crating would not be obtained.

In cutting heavy timber, a mill was lucky if 20 per cent of the cut was clear, and thus exportable. There had to be a market found locally or elsewhere for the remaining 80 per cent cut.

TAKE OPTION ON LILLOOET GROUP

J. A. Profit Announces Syndicate May Develop Golden Cache and Bonanza Mines

Encouraged by mining reports dating back to 1887 and recent opinions obtained on the ground, a Coast syndicate has secured an option on the Golden Cache and Bonanza mines, on Cayoosh Creek, in Lillooet district, with a view to development, it was announced yesterday, by J. A. Profit, of this city. Mr. Profit said the properties consisted of ten crown granted mineral claims, some twenty-six miles distant from the Pioneer mine, and in an area, which in early days, had yielded a considerable amount of placer gold. The syndicate has in mind preliminary development of the Bonanza group as a lode proposition, to test the ground.

Cayoosh Creek first came to notice about 1867, when a considerable quantity of gold was taken in placer operations along one stretch of the stream. The original Golden Cache Mines were formed on reports of spectacular ore and a mill erected, but development ceased, following sensational disappearance of amalgam from the mine in the Fall of 1898, and stock selling activities, which reacted against the enterprise at that time.

TO TEST GROUND

Going over old reports of the area, Mr. Profit believes that the ground was not sufficiently tried out, and that opportunity may still exist for development. The syndicate intends to test its theories on six claims of the Bonanza group, and discounting reports of spectacular values, hopes to find good milling ore at depth on the veins. Arthur F. Noel, who has had considerable experience in the Lillooet area, is associated with the venture, Mr. Profit stated.

A warning to inexperienced prospectors who may be drawn to the Cariboo and other areas of the province by the gold fever, was issued yesterday, by J. A. Hibberson, of this city, who has returned from an extended tour of the Cariboo. Extreme hardship lies in store for tenderfoot prospectors who enter the Cariboo before the snow has gone out, he declared. Some men are on relief, and food supplies have to be packed for considerable distances.

Despite this, Mr. Hibberson believes that later in the season, there will be opportunity for all who wish to try their luck at prospecting, if they are prepared to stand the hardships and disappointments involved. Considerable activity along the line of the P.G.E. is in evidence in the area, he stated.

MOTORIST SUING OVER INSURANCE

Owner of Auto Claims Company Should Pay for Injuries Following an Accident

Claiming specific performance of an insurance contract, Mrs. Kathleen E. Robbins, 2933 Foul Bay Road, entered action in the Supreme Court here, yesterday, against the Consolidated Fire & Casualty Insurance Company, before Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald.

R. L. Maitland, K.C., with Harold A. Beckwith, appeared for Mrs. Robbins, and Alfred Bull, K.C., with Roy Manzer, appeared for the defendant company. At the conclusion of the hearing judgment was reserved.

The action involves some $4,000, which Mrs. Robbins claimed was payable by the insurance company for injuries received by three persons who were driving with her, in her auto on July 28 last, on the Island Highway, when her auto left the highway. Mr. Justice Murphy gave judgment in favor of H. D. Watson, Emily Watson and Richard A. Watson against Mrs. Robbins, with costs taxed at $514, which the insurance company is refusing to pay.

The defendant company claims that the plaintiff did not co-operate with the insurance company, in respect to the claim, and assisted the other parties in bring a claim against her in respect to the matters at issue in the action yesterday.

EXPECT INCREASE IN CONSUMPTION

Canadian Westinghouse Officials Anticipate Greater Activity in Electrical Industry

The electrical industry can look forward with confidence to increased activity in the manufacture and use of domestic appliances, in the opinion of the Canadian Westinghouse Company.

In proof of this statement, it is only necessary to consider the steady increase in the consumption of electrical power in Canada. In 1932 the total consumption of electricity was over 237,000,000 kilowatt hours greater than in the previous year. Hydro-electric developments in Canada added, during 1932, 378,923 horsepower.

The utilization of this extra power brings a growing demand for electrical appliances of all types—notably the modern domestic devices such as electric refrigerators, ranges, washers, hot water heaters, etc.

In order to supply this demand, Canadian Westinghouse Company added a complete new unit for the manufacture of rerigerators and is now engaged in further extending its sales and service organization throughout Canada. A progressive advertising plan, stressing the advantages and uses of electricity in the home, will be an important part of the Westinghouse programme for this year.

Modern Robinson Crusoes Tell of Their Hardships

SEWARD, Alaska, Feb. 20 (AP).—Three women today related their experiences of eating mouldy bread and the meat of wild bulls, and using tea and hay for cigarettes, while marooned on bleak Chirikof Island.

They were Misses Hilda and Frances Meusel, of Chicago, and Mrs. Jack McCord, wife of the promoter of a platinum gold property on Chirikof, all members of a party rescued by the coastguard cutter Tallapoosa on February 10, when their supplies were almost exhausted.

The party was cast away on one of the most isolated spots of the Aleutian Island group when the motorship Dorothy was wrecked in the surf.

PLENTY OF LOCAL COLOR

The two Chicagoans, who came north to seek local color for stories of Alaska they plan to write, said when their cigarettes were gone they used tea "which tasted like soap and smelled like stockyards," dried yeast and "crumbled hardtack and finally hay, doused with a camphor preparation to give it a kick."

The cutter landed them at Kodiak, where McCord had been waiting since the wreck. Commander C. N. Dench cited Lieut. B. H. Brallier for courageous skill in taking off with the party in a lifeboat through heavy surf.

Charles Leonard Is Sentenced to Year for Thefts

Charles Leonard, former janitor for a number of business establishments in Victoria, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment for theft from shops during the past year. Sentence was given by Magistrate Jay, in the City Police Court yesterday morning. He was given a year on each of three charges, and six months on a fourth, all sentences to run concurrently.

Leonard pleaded guilty to the theft when he was put on trial last Saturday morning, and a plea for leniency was made by R. C. Lowe, his counsel.

In sentencing the accused, Magistrate Jay referred to the serious nature of the crime, but was inclined to take into consideration that this was the first offence against Leonard. The Magistrate also said that the accused was in the trust of his employers, and that he had betrayed that trust. A large quantity of the stolen goods was returned to the owners, and amounted to approximately $450 in value.

Court of Appeal

Victoria Sittings

Andier (R.) vs. Duke (A.)—The Court of Appeal gave judgment yesterday on the question of the construction of the rules governing the scale of costs.

Appellants contended that as the value of the property, the subject of the action, was approximately $55,000, the costs should be taxed upon the highest scale. The relief asked for in the suit was the cancellation of an instrument of title to land, a declaration of ownership and a vesting order. The court held that it could not be said that there was an "amount involved" in the suit. The word "amount" meant an amount in money. The rules provided the scales of costs applicable to actions where specified amounts were involved. The rules also provided that in all other actions and proceedings the costs should be taxed upon the specified scale.

The costs before the court came within that scale. Equitable relief was claimed and no amount was involved within the meaning of the rule.

The appeal was dismissed.

What Today Means

"PISCES"

If February 21 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m., from 5:20 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. and from 10 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger periods are from 11:15 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 3:30 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Take care on this February 21 lest you make wrong desciions or take false steps in your business pursuits, due to a feeling of overconfidence. You will tend to feel so satisfied with your own powers and abilities that you may find yourself unable to see pitfalls in your path. Move slowly in dealing with affairs of the heart, be they your own or not.

The child born on this February 21 is apt to be emotionally unstable; that is, inclined to sudden fits of temper, tantrums, and to frequent spells of crying. The child will probably be of a very excitable nature, and restless. These characteristics will no doubt be early outgrown, and the child will follow the usual existence of the average youngster.

Born on February 21, you are most likely a person who speaks little of himself or his affairs. You are not at all secretive, nor bashful. You simply prefer to go your way quietly, neither boasting about your victories and achievements nor complaining about your difficulties. Your great modesty often leads people to think you a myaterious person. You are very loyal in your friendships; you often make great sacrifices for those you love and trust. You do not enjoy the best of health, but in all probability you will not have to pass through any serious illnesses. You will live to a substantial age.

If February 21 is the date of your birth, you care little for worldly success; you look to things spiritual for your happiness. You should seek a life-work that will enable you to come into close contact with many people. Your qualities of courage, insight, foresight, and your rare ability to analyze people, make you a person particularly adapted to the guidance of others. Women born on this date are inclined to feel themselves restrained and hampered by marriage. They prefer to strike out for themselves, independently, in the business world, where it seems they prefer to follow the pursuits of men rather than remaining in those fields to which women usually find themselves drawn.

TO MAKE NEW INVESTIGATION

Chamber of Commerce Will Inquire Further Into Cold Storage Claims

Replies from Ottawa to the communications sent by the Chamber of Commerce urging the granting of the cold storage subsidies to the Victoria Cold Storage Company were read at the meeting of the directors yesterday and were to the effect that the requests should come before the cold storage was built. The information was given by Duncan McBride, manager of the plant, that such a request was made and that the latest application was for reconsideration of the decision from Ottawa in the matter.

The matter came up on the receipt by the Chamber of a letter of thanks from the bondholders of the cold storage company for the interest taken in the move.

At the same time a letter was read from Hon. H. H. Stevens, who said that he had taken the matter of a subsidy up with the Department of Agriculture, which had charge of such matters. Mr. Stevens offered the suggestion that it appeared there was no power to grant aid to a plant already established and which might find itself in difficulties.

Hon. R. Weir, Minister of Agriculture, also sent a reply to the effect that a subsidy could be granted only under order-in-council passed before the plant was built. It would be illegal to give assistance under any other conditions.

B. C. Nicholas and others were of the opinion that application had been made for the subsidy before completion of the building.

The committee will reconsider the matter in view of the new information.

MAKES REQUEST TO REPAIR DOCK

Ottawa Is Pressed to Effect Immediate Restoration of Ferry Landing at Sidney

D. B. Plunkett, M.P., and C. H. Dickie, M.P., have been requested by the Chamber of Commerce to endeavor to have the landing place for the ferries at Sidney repaired at once, so as to be ready for the opening of the tourist season. The dock was completely destroyed, it was announced at the meeting of the directors yesterday, and information was given that the president and the commissioner had taken action by telegraphing to the local members in the matter.

The directors endorsed the action of the officers of the chamber, in the course taken.

SILVER COINAGE TO BE STUDIED

The proposal by J. A. Griffiths, which suggests as a course of action by the Dominion Government, the minting of silver dollars from the product of the Canadian mines, and the replacing of part of the paper money with silver coin, will be investigated by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Griffiths appeared before the directors of the chamber yesterday, and set forth the objects and plan he had in view.

J. O. Cameron, in moving to refer the matter to a committee, said that this subject, to his knowledge, had been a live one for the past forty years. He believed that the bankers generally were against the free coinage of silver. On the contrary, farmers and others, when times were hard, generally endorsed the project.

There would be a marked division of opinion in the chamber, he felt, but was prepared to have it taken up by a committee.

A CRUSADER DIES

Through his own initiative and at his own expense Mr. Frank J. D. Barnjum had been carrying out a campaign for the protection of Canada's forests for the last ten years. He is dead in France. His campaign will continue, for he has left a Barnjum Foundation to perpetuate the work and the forest lands he bought for protective purposes are to be retained in perpetuity. He had acquired a number of tracts in Eastern Canada, in the New England States and he made two purchases on Vancouver Island in the Cowichan District. He was a frequent visitor to Victoria and had the intention, had his life been spared, of spending some time here yearly.

Mr. Barnjum had set aside half his fortune, and it was a large one, to carry on his work of forest fire protection. He saw in the wastage that goes on in logging operations, in the destruction through fire and the ravages by insect pests, such a wiping out of the forest resources that it was only a question of a very short time before those resources would disappear altogether. Needless to say he was a strong supporter of reforestation. He pleaded for land to be set aside for this purpose in strong and convincing language, and his campaign, mainly through a series of letters to the newspapers throughout the country, was maintained up to the moment of his fatal illness. This newspaper published a letter on the subject only a few days ago written by Mr. Barnjum from Cannes.

Mr. Barnjum was one of the country's finest and most public-spirited citizens. His enthusiasm for the cause to which he had devoted the concluding years of his life was intense and glowing. He was a crusader of the practical kind. In late years he had visited many countries in Europe where a forest policy maintains so as to learn from each what is being done to perpetuate a timber supply. The result of his investigations, derived at first hand from those responsible for forest policies, has been of undoubted value in awakening public opinion in this country.

Despite the set purpose of his latter-day career Mr. Barnjum was deeply concerned about political and economic matters generally. He could discuss a variety of subjects with keen understanding and with vision. It is, however, because of his knowledge of forestry matters that he will be best remembered, and because of his success in instructing the people how necessary it is to think in terms of posterity as well as about the present. He has left a monument of endeavor in the mass of information he collected and in the manner in which he disseminated it in the Dominion. No man could have been more single-minded in his endeavors. He had nothing to gain. On the contrary, he spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in a campaign which he foresaw would inure to the benefit of the country as a whole.

Mr. Barnjum was possessed of a charming personality. There was a sincerity in his conversation which immediately impressed all who had the privilege of knowing him. With gentle manners he spoke softly, but there was always the knowledge of a definite, persuasive purpose in all he had to say. In newspaper offices throughout the country his letters were always welcomed because of their constructive character. They were prepared with the greatest care. Mr. Barnjum, whenever the opportunity offered, consulted those newspapers about the character of the publicity in which he was engaged, and was always ready to defer to the advice offered. In the line which he had adopted no man did more for Canada and it may be doubted if anyone anywhere ever engaged on a similar campaign of his own volition and achieved so much. The Barnjum Foundation which he has bequeathed to posterity is the emblem of the purpose he had in view. Canada can ill spare such citizens. In every province within the Dominion he will be deeply mourned for everywhere he went he made friends. No Canadian was better known personally to high officials in various Governments of the world.

THE BEST LINE OF POETRY

A short time ago some literary persons were asking one another to name the most beautiful word in the language, an obviously difficult matter if for no other reason than that our minds are apt to dwell upon the beauty of the person, thing, quality, sentiment, or circumstance which the word denotes rather than upon the word itself and by itself. After all, a single word has but little to recommend it apart from its natural setting within the unity of its sentence. In the result there were as many differing opinions as there were persons concerned in the discussion.

Is there likely to be any greater unanimity as to the most beautiful passages of poetry? This is a question now going the rounds of the newspapers. No doubt there are many passages that make a strong appeal to all cultivated minds. No doubt there are many concerning which there is a wide variety of opinion. How are we to identify those "Jewels five words long that on the outstretched forefinger of all time sparkle forever."

Philosophers in all ages have pursued an unending search for Reality. In some schools of thought much more emphasis has been laid upon the True, and the Good, than upon the Beautiful. Yet these three are the names of a trinity of Realities and perhaps of the several aspects of the one great Reality. There are indeed philosophers who affirm that Beauty is the highest form of Reality and that it is the most difficult to discern in our present stage of development. No one will deny that there are four fives in twenty, hardly anyone will deny that we ought to obey the Golden Rule, but grave differences of opinion arise over the beauty of a statue or a line of poetry. It is commonly said that every judgment is made within a system. This is clear enough in the case of mathematics or in morals, but who can exhibit the ground of the system which enables him to say that "this is beautiful"?

Fortunately we can enjoy what is beautiful without spending too much time theorizing about it. He whose spirit responds to beauty in the concrete may say with Wordsworth:

"My heart leaps up when I behold
The rainbow in the sky."

Tastes differ; but there are few who would venture to deny the beauty, the haunting, unforgettable quality in the finest of Canadian boat songs, especially in the words:

"From the lone shieling on the misty island."

No one fails to appreciate the beauty of Keats in:

"The same that oft-times hath,
Charmed magic casements, opening on the foam
Of perilous seas in faery lands forlorn."

Or of Tennyson's

"The splendour falls on castle walls."

Or of Swinburn's

"Saw the white implacable Aphrodite."

Or of the words of Antony

"Unarm, Eros, the long day's task is done
And we must sleep."

Or of Coleridge's

"A noise like of a hidden brook
In the leafy month of June."

Or of Wordsworth's

"Have sight of Proteus rising from the sea
Or hear old Triton blow his wreathed horn."

Or of Keats'

"Or like stout Cortez when with eagle eyes
He stared at the Pacific—and all his men
Look'd at each other with a wild surmise—
Silent, upon a peak of Darien."

Or of Macaulay's

"The good wife's shuttle merrily goes flashing through the loom."

Or of Whittier's

"Some humble door among Thy many mansions."

Or, again, of Macaulay's

"But he saw on Palatinus
The white porch of his home."

Or, again, of Keats'

"Forever wilt thou love and she be fair."

It is of course necessary to stop somewhere, but this list may perhaps include a stanza from Burns which is said to be perfect of its kind,

"Still o'er these scenes my memory wakes,
And fondly broods with miser care,
Time but the impression deeper makes
As streams their channels deeper wear."

SACRIFICING REVENUE

The action of the Federal House of Commons in vetoing the abolition of the embargo on liquor exports from this country to the United States was simultaneous with the vote in the American Senate favoring the abolition of the Eighteenth Amendment under which Prohibition came into force in that country. It is conceivable that when the Eighteenth Amendment no longer exists Canada will still be prohibited from exporting liquor to the United States. That would be a somewhat ludicrous situation. In effect, Prohibition is hardly being enforced at all in the United States. It is almost a dead letter owing to public sentiment as evidenced in the latest Presidential election. Meantime Canada deprives herself of revenue amounting to millions of dollars. The Federal Government must be more opulent than many persons have imagined.

COMMON THINGS

God, I would pray that I may always keep
The joy of common things that thrills me now—
A rain-drenched robin, singing on his bough,
The shy, small thoughts I think before I sleep.

Warm cookies, and a brimming cup of milk,
The scent of lavender and apple bloom,
The fresh cool odor of a new-cleaned room.
And pussy willows, shiny-soft as silk;

The firelight gleaming on my copper bowl,
The smooth worn leathers of my books to touch.
May fame or fortune never count so much
That these lose power to satisfy my soul.

—Eula Gould, in The American Girl.

Note and Comment

By R. H. D.

Oh! why should the spirit of mortal be proud
Like a swift-fleeting meteor, a fast-flying cloud,
A flash of the lightning, a break of the wave,
Man passes from life to his rest in the grave.

The leaves of the oak and the willow shall fade,
Be scattered around and together be laid;
And the young and the old, the low and the high,
Shall moulder to dust, and together shall die.

The child that a mother attended and loved,
The mother that infant's affection who proved,
The husband that mother and infant who blessed,
Each, all, are away to their dwellings of rest.

The maid on whose cheek, on whose brow, in whose eye,
Shone beauty and pleasure, her triumphs are by;
And the memory of those who loved her and praised
Are alike from the minds of the living erased.

The hand of the king that sceptre hath borne,
The brow of the priest that mitre hath worn,
The eye of the sage, and the heart of the brave,
Are hidden and lost in the depths of the grave.

The peasant whose lot was to sow and to reap,
The herdsman who climb'd with his goats to the steep,
The beggar who wander'd in search of his bread,
Have faded away like the grass that we tread.

The saint who enjoy'd the communion of Heaven,
The sinner who dared to remain unforgiven,
The wise and the foolish, the guilty and just,
Have equally mingled their bones in the dust.

So the multitude goes like the flower and the weed,
That wither away to let others succeed;
So the multitude comes, even those we behold,
To repeat every tale that has often been told.

For we are the same our fathers have been;
We see the same sights our fathers have seen;
We drink the same stream, and we feel the same sun,
And run the same course that our fathers have run.

The thoughts we are thinking our fathers would think;
From the death we are shrinking from, they, too, would shrink;
To the life we are clinging to, they, too, would cling,
But it speeds from the earth like a bird on the wing.

They loved, but their story we cannot unfold;
They scorned, but the heart of the haughty is cold;
They grieved, but no wail from their slumbers will come;
They joyed, but the voice of their gladness is dumb.

They died—ay! they died: and we things that are now,
Who walk on the turf that lies over their brow,
Who make in their dwellings a transient abode,
Meet the chances they met on their pilgrimage road—

Yea, hope and despondence, and pleasure and pain
Are mingled together in sunshine and rain;
And the smile and the tear, the song and the dirge,
Still follow each other like surge upon surge.

'Tis the wink of an eye, 'tis the draught of a breath,
From the blossom of health to the paleness of death,
From the gilded saloon to the bier and the shroud,
Oh! why should the spirit of mortal be proud?

No, the above verses "are not our own." (Some of our caustic friends will tell us the disavowal of authorship was not necessary.) We do not know who wrote them. Nor did the lady who brought them in know who wrote them. We were requested to publish them not entirely for their own sake alone but because they were the favorite verses of Abraham Lincoln, the martyred President of the United States, and because their publication at a time when another elected President narrowly escaped martyrdom might be considered apropos.

It is a curious commentary on human nature when you come to think of it that the popularly elected leaders of great nations have to be guarded as vigilantly against sudden death at the hands of the people as heads that wear a crown. It is a fact that more Presidents of republics have been assassinated, at least within the memory of men, than rulers of hereditary right have been assassinated. It is undoubtedly a fact that the life of a President of the United States has to be more zealously guarded by officers of the law than the life of the King of Great Britain. The President of the United States is not permitted to mingle as freely with the people of the United States who elected him as the hereditary ruler of the British Empire is allowed to mingle with the people who had no voice in his selection.

There may be two reasons for this anomalous state of affairs. One of the reasons is that the cosmopolitan population of the United States is hereditarily temperamental, and in moments of excitement is liable to lose its head, or rather its mental balance. The other reason is that the United States as a nation is armed almost to a man. The popularly elected rulers of the republic are incessant in their demands for international disarmament; but they hardly ever suggest the idea of national disarmament. The consequence is that the civil law apparently cannot be enforced except at the muzzles of machine guns, rifles and pistols. The criminal elements also are "armed to the teeth," and always prepared to meet fire with fire. There is a pistol in the hands of every man—and other kinds of lethal weapons are frequently used as auxiliary implements in the social warfare. In Great Britain even the police are not armed, and such a thing as a household battery of small artillery is unknown.

The office of President of the United States is second to no other in the world in either dignity or importance. For it is the centre of great responsibilities; and never in the history of the nation or of all nations were its potentialities so great as at the present time. Within a few weeks there will be a conference at which the newly-elected President will be the most powerful figure, for the judgment of Mr. Roosevelt will determine what must be done about the question of a final adjustment of the issue of war debts. Authorities have declared that unless war debts can be equitably adjusted, a revival of international trade and commerce may be postponed for an indefinite period. Of course, the powers of the President are limited by the cherished prerogative of the United States Senate; but a decision of the President at such a time should have a determining influence upon the course of the Senate.

So the office of President of the United States was never in history more exalted than it is at the present time. Yet not at any time is the exalted office a position greatly to be desired by any citizen who craves a quiet life and length of days. High position carries great responsibilities and involves imminent perils. The average or the normal man does not covet martyrdom as the summit of his ambition, even with an assurance of an imposing national monument and immortality. It is a terrible comment upon the spirit of modern times that a President cannot engage in his public duties or discharge his social obligations without "taking his life in his hands." Yet in Canada our Liberal friends insist that the ravings of political incendiaries should be tolerated by authority; that fanatics who advocate revolution by violence should not be deported.

BRITISH-AMERICAN FILMS

Sir,—I saw in The Daily Colonist, that the British-American Films, Limited, was apt to locate in Victoria and to build a studio there. I surely hope it will, as I feel sure it will be a big thing for Victoria, and it will be the best publicity that Victoria can get. I think it will put Victoria on the map.

I hope that the business men of Victoria will do what they can to have the company locate there. I have been interested in Victoria for years, and wish I can arrange my business so I could settle there. I will surely be very anxious to see if the film company will locate in your city. H. S. MacKAY.
North Conway, New Hampshire, U.S.A., February 14, 1933.

WOMEN AND THE SYNOD

Sir,—May I point out that all those wicked men who voted against the above are not narrow-minded anti-suffragists as some try to make out, but very much the reverse. Neither are they that easy-going "oh, what's the use of kicking" type, who neither express their views nor vote. But they are men who take the trouble to inquire into and think things out for themselves. It might surprise some people to know that not only have the women never asked for the privilege, but they do not want it, and as a rule the best of them do not appreciate being represented by any Agnes Macphails. Others again are very much opposed to relieving men of the responsibility, as they say we are doing our bit all the time; for goodness sake, let the men do something.

All this talk about brotherly and sisterly co-operation is just so much eyewash to bolster a weak case. Everyone admits that women, through their W.A., do wonders for the churches in all parishes, but the best of them prefer to do it in the good old-fashioned (God bless us), quiet and retiring way, and don't want any more publicity than results give them. And why fussy agitators should want to upset the whole apple-cart by discouraging the men is a puzzle to me.

W. RIDGWAY WILSON.
Pemberton Block, Victoria, B.C., February 20, 1933.

SCRIPTURAL TEACHINGS

Sir,—One of your correspondents, Mr. Mitchell I think, is dubious about how energy originated. It never did originate, for it is co-eval and co-eternal with God, of Whom it is a manifestation.

Matter is never annihilated, because matter is not substance but energy, which may be changed, but not destroyed.

Re Mr. Bayliss' latest, had he lived when Genesis was written he would have accepted the "firmament" as I described it.

About Dives and Lazarus, surely Mr. Bayliss does not suggest that Jesus purposely misled his disciples by describing, even in a parable, conditions that were false. Are all parables untrue in their depiction of possible conditions? Surely Mr. Bayliss does not claim to be a higher authority than Justin Martyn (A.D. 147); Tertullian (A.D. 350), or Augustine (A.D. 398), all of whom clearly assert the continuation of our life after death. The Greek words Aion (spelled with an omega, which might, however, overtax your lino, so I spell it in English letters), and Aionios, do not suggest eternity and eternal, but mean a period, and period-long. Krisis and Krinein do not mean damnation, but refer to judgment. Mr. Bayliss really ought to learn to read the New Testament in its original Greek before offering an opinion.

Furthermore, eternal punishment would be retroactive. Reverting to Dives and Lazarus, how does this parable prove eternal judgment? Dives is not in hell, and Lazarus is not in Heaven. Both are in Hades. "Rising from the dead" was a colloquialism then, as it is now. If Christ died when his body was in the tomb, how explain 1 Peter iii. 18-20, which states that during this period he preached to the spirits in keeping; also 1 Peter iv. 6.

THE COLONIST IN LONDON

The Colonist may be procured at the International News Stand of Messrs. Selfridge & Co., Oxford Street

There is no error, except on the part of Mr. Bayliss, in my speaking of the Christian Spiritualists. This is not a religion per se, but merely admits, as incontestably proven, continued life as an individual, and spirit communication, which later gives overwhelming evidence of the reality of Christ and Christianity, as taught by Himself. This does not withdraw any persons from any reasonable church to which they may belong.

Pray, Mr. Bayliss, do not try to make me responsible for what your pet spiritualist may assert. At any rate, I can respect Mr. Bayliss for his manifest sincerity, and do not think I need fear that many will fall into his special rut, after his statement of ready-made trees. Where were the acorns whence these grew. W. J. L. HAMILTON.
Fulford Harbor, Saltspring Island, B.C., February 19, 1933.

AMERICAN REVISED VERSION

Sir,—May I have space to make a correction in reference to my letter on "The Sabbath Day?" Owing to a printers' error, the well-known abbreviation of the American Revised Version (A.R.V.), which I employed, was misinterpreted and printed as "Authorized Roman Version." The line corrected should read: "The equally distinguished translators of the American Revised Version, which is as near the original meaning as anything could be translated into another language, also follow their worthy predecessors with "the first day of the week."

If my memory serves me correctly, the version used in Roman Catholic churches (the "Douay," translated about the same time as the King James Version), has never been blessed or authorized by any Pope or Council as suggested in the error noted above.

As others beside the printer may have received a wrong impression, I would appreciate publication of this correction.

H. G. BAYLISS.

VETERANS' PENSIONS

Sir,—The Victoria District Council, Canadian Legion, has received a telegram from Mr. Robert Macnicol, provincial secretary, in reply to inquiries made regarding a speech he delivered in Vancouver on Friday last. Mr. Macnicol was quoted by The Daily Province to the effect that, in his opinion, war pensioners would not greatly object to a 10 per cent cut in pensions. Mr. Macnicol's telegram to the District Council is as follows:

"Reference press report Friday meeting would state speech misquoted. Correct remarks were, "Should time ever arrive when Government should attempt to cut pensions 10 per cent feel certain veterans will resist to utmost limit unless economies effected at all other sources, and war profiteers and those who grafted during the war had disgorged some of their ill-gotten gains to the treasury of Canada."

It will be greatly appreciated if publicity may be given to Mr. Macnicol's correction of this report for the benefit of veterans in this area.

Secretary,

How Supplies From Red Cross Help in Peace River Area

(Contributed)

The following letter has just been received by the Red Cross Commissioner from Rev. Canon Proctor, Dawson Creek.

"Dear Mr. Corry Wood:

"May I express to you my sincere thanks for your letter and for the bales of clothing and footwear which arrived safely. They were certainly a life-saver, for I was overcrowded with appeals. The Winter has been so long and severe. At present it is fifty-four below zero, and last night it touched sixty. We have now had four long months of very severe weather, and following as it has a poor Summer for crops and gardens in a new pioneer country populated in the majority by the penniless from the dried-out areas of the Prairies, it has certainly been very hard. What little the farmers have will not bring the cost of shipment. Cattle are commencing to die of starvation, owing to lack of feed, and we have had about seven feet of snow already this Winter. Many of the farmers are traveling thirty-five miles to buy even wheat straw at $2 a load; a good many more stock must die before Spring, and at present they are in such poor shape that they are not even worth killing for meat.

"The bales of flannelette and yarn which you sent me have all been made up. I called my W.A. together and they had a cutting-out bee, and made up shirts, pyjamas, nighties and panties, and have knitted the wool into stockings; it was useless for me to give out the material, for many of the people have not the necessary thread, needles or buttons, let alone sewing machines. It is now all made up and quite a little already distributed.

"The rubber boots, socks and boys' boots were a tremendous help. My great need now is for footwear for school, girls' boots, stockings and rubbers, for Spring will soon be here. Many of them have been going to school in footwear made of sacking which will of course be useless as soon as the snow begins to go, which we all hope will not be long. Some of the blankets have had to be cut up for clothing as the people can get lots of wood to keep them warm in the house even at night, but they must be clothed to face the elements, which have not been any too kind this Winter. Tears have come into the eyes of more than one man at the sight of the rubber boots, they not knowing of course before how they would be able to go out in the Spring. The pants are also a great help. I have not been able to get in any men's underwear or shirts this year and I have had about seventy different appeals for them.

"However, I do sincerely thank you for your generosity. I am looking for the army overcoats and will write you as soon as I receive them. You would be surprised at the number of appeals I have had for footwear and stockings for children who have not been able to go to school for lack of them since November. I am even running an exchange. Many of the people bring in things too small, etc., to change for something else and so the things keep going round.

"Again thanking you and wishing you every success in your appeals."

A CIRCLE
(With a Moral)

"A" was out of work and so
Was out of cash as well.
He couldn't buy his children shoes
Though "B" had shoes to sell.

"B" couldn't sell his shoes and so,
To cut expenses, he
Bought only bare necessities
Of life from grocer "C."

"C" felt his trade was sinking
So told his wife that she,
In order to economize,
Must buy less meat from "D."

To make his shop attractive
And bring more trade his way
"D" figured on a coat of paint
And sent along for "A."

"A" did the job and straightway
He bought the shoes from "B"
Who immediately was able
To increase his trade with "C."

"C's" business started moving
And, as it began to pay,
He bought more meat from "D" and gave
A job of work to "T."

And so the circle closes
And spins upon its way
And "B" and "C" and "D" have learnt
That circle starts with "A."

An American who was a stranger to football, saw a soccer match in which one of the goalkeepers gave a poor display. "Say," he asked, "does that guy between the spars collect any money for this?"

"Gee whiz!" said the American, "wouldn't it be more economical to board up the space?"

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of February 21, 1883)

Chinese Battle—Two Chinese fought a prize fight in Philadelphia on Tuesday. They fought for half an hour and then one went down in a heap, signifying he had had enough.

Ten-Year-Old Poisoner—A little girl, ten years of age, was recently taken from the Orphans' Home in Dallas, Oregon, by a kind-hearted woman named Shields. After poisoning with strychnine all the dogs about the place, she gave her benefactress a dose that nearly proved fatal. She seems to be possessed of a mania for poisoning everything she lays her eyes on.

Mail Service—It is rumored that a daily mail service between Victoria and Puget Sound will commence May 1. This will prove a great benefit to the citizens of Victoria and Vancouver Island.

Investing Money—A good sign of reviving confidence is found in the fact that several persons who have accumulated wealth on the Mainland are investing in Victoria real estate.

New Land Policies Being Considered By B.C. Government

Would Open 2,600,000 Acres in Close-In Areas to Early Settlement on More Favorable Terms —For Settlers With Working Capital

Introduction of an entirely new land policy, under which 2,600,000 acres of reverted lands in the hands of the Province would become available for settlement on a basis far more attractive than before, has been suggested to the Provincial Government by Hon. N. S. Lougheed, Minister of Lands. Under the proposal advanced by the minister, 7,000 parcels of land close to Vancouver and much other acreage in areas close to the larger settlements throughout British Columbia, would become immediately available for tenancy on conditions favoring early settlement.

The suggestion is that genuine settlers who intend to stay on the land and work it, would be given opportunity to occupy reverted properties for their own use, without large payments of any kind, for the first two years.

ON EASY PAYMENTS

The land, much of it already partly improved, would be made available in small parcels, which could be held for the assumption of taxes during the two years, without payment of any kind during the first year. Taxes on similar parcels vary from about $7 to $12 annually, and are moderate in extent. At the end of the second year if the settler desired to stay on the ground he could enter the usual agreement to purchase, at the rate of 10 per cent down and the balance in nine annual installments.

The settler, it is argued, would have the land almost cost free for two years, saving the slight amount in taxes, and the Province would receive revenue on property now entirely nonproductive, with material chance of effecting sale to satisfactory owners after the initial two-year period.

The plan is entirely distinct from the relief land settlement scheme, operated on somewhat similar lines, but with financial assistance, and is for settlers with some working capital.

AN EXAMPLE GIVEN

If the upset price of the land in the first place were $300, the settler could enter on the property as in pre-emption procedure, pay taxes at the end of the first and second years, and then pay $30 (or 10 per cent) if he desired to enter into agreement for purchase. The balance would be paid in nine annual installments, in addition to the annual taxes on the land.

Hundreds of applications for pre-emptions in close-in areas have been filed with the Government in the last few months, by those desirous of leaving the cities and getting back to the land. Under existing legislation there are no lands available for pre-emption in these areas, but throwing open the door to a form of pre-emption of reverted lands would overcome this difficulty and would afford large areas of suitable lands close to the larger cities.

READY FOR SETTLERS

In the Vancouver area alone there are between 6,000 and 7,000 parcels of land close in to the centres of settlement, and much of this property is improved or partly improved. At present it is standing idle, and is non-revenue producing. Under the proposed scheme it would contribute taxes to the province, and some of the land would be sold to those with experience on it at the end of two years' time. Similarly around Prince George, Prince Rupert and many other centres, there are lands available for the purpose. Vancouver Island areas are included.

NO ABSENTEE OWNERS

Actual settlement on the property and elimination of absentee owners who hold for speculative purposes would be a first principle of the arrangement. The plan would apply particularly to families with a little working capital, who could take care of themselves without assistance, once their living costs had been reduced through production for their own needs. If the plan is approved by the Government, it may be reflected in legislation at the coming session.

The plan would militate against sales of similar lands by the Province, except in cases where settlers desired to make outright purchase of the lands of their choice. On the other hand, a general adoption of the scheme might contribute in taxes more than is forfeited under other headings; while the present trend towards egress from the cities would receive a decided stimulus.

BEST TEACHING METHODS SHOWN

Correct Way of Instructing Classes Demonstrated to Anglican Tutors at Memorial Hall

Correct methods of class instruction in religious education were demonstrated to Anglican Sunday School teachers of Victoria last night, at the Memorial Hall, at a gathering sponsored by the Diocesan Board of Religious Education. Rev. A. G. E. Munson, of St. Matthias' Church, president of the board, was chairman, and opened the meeting with prayers.

Nearly an hour was devoted to the demonstrating, with qualified teachers instructing senior, junior and primary classes in different rooms in the building. Rev. A. Harding Priest took the senior class, Deaconess M. E. Robinson, the juniors, while Miss B. Carlisle, of St. Christopher's College, England, demonstrated methods of teaching primary grades. This method of instructing the teachers has proved most satisfactory and beneficial. Students of the Christ Church Sunday School formed the various classes.

Following the instruction period, Mr. Priest, who is Western secretary of the General Board of Religious Education, discussed the aims and methods of religious education. He spoke of the qualifications, which Sunday school teachers must have for the work, and also referred to the reward gained by them after studiously pursuing their teachings.

New Seed Catalogue Issued by McKenzie Company, Brandon

Big Prizes Offered in Connection With World's Grain Exhibition

The season for indoor gardening is here! From now until the time when Spring actually arrives, countless Canadians will spend hour after hour pouring over the brilliantly illustrated pages of the seed catalogues, hoping for an early thaw and tasting, mentally, of the delights which come to jaded appetites with the appearance of the first fresh vegetables of the year.

Then, there is the fun of planning the flower plot, an important first step and one which is best undertaken at this season of the year well in advance of the time when home gardeners can actually take to the yard with shovel, hoe, rake and trowel. Flower gardens, well planned ahead of the planting season, usually present the most beautiful arrangement of colors, more orderly arrangement as to height of the various plants and an assortment of varieties which bloom in succession so that the garden is never without flowers.

The annual catalogue of A. E. McKenzie Company, Limited, whose headquarters are Brandon, has just been mailed to customers throughout the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia. It contains all of the standard and reliable varieties which have been grown in Canada successfully in past seasons and, in addition, includes a large number of new varieties which, according to tests, are thoroughly adaptable to the Canadian soil and climate and will add further variety to garden crops.

Included is a Sand Cherry, a juicy, blue fruit, used for pies, jams and preserves. The small tree, or bush, on which it grows is hardy and has been especially bred for adaptability to Canadian conditions.

This is the second year McKenzie catalogue has listed commercial offering of Crested Wheat Grass, which is expected to solve, in large measure, the feed problem of Western Canada, because of its hardiness and its resistance to drought.

To inspire interest in the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference, which is scheduled for Regina, July 24 to August 5, the Company announces in its catalogue two Contests in which $5,215 in cash prizes will be awarded for letters relating to the Exhibition, for predictions of total attendance, and so on. ***

Ask Dump Duty Be Applied to Foreign Turnips

IMMEDIATE application of a dump duty on rutabagas entering British Columbia from United States territory was asked by the Provincial Government from Ottawa, yesterday, in wires from Hon. William Atkinson to Hon. Robert Weir. A considerable surplus of table and fodder turnips are available in the Lower Fraser Valley and on Vancouver Island, in unsaleable quantities at some places. In spite of this, a carload of Yakima turnips were brought into Vancouver recently. Application of a fair market value for duty purposes against importation of rutabagas is sought, backed by representations of the British Columbia growers concerned.

ASK REFERENDUM ON BEER SALES

Prohibitionists Interview Government With Number of Recommendations to Advance

Headed by Rev. R. J. McIntyre, a delegation of British Columbia prohibition officials made their annual pilgrimage to the Government yesterday, to advance a number of requests in connection with the control of liquor and beer.

They advocated a new beer referendum at the general Provincial election; institution of temperance education on the screen and in the schools; abolition of liquor advertising, assurance of no extension of existing beer sale privileges, and restrictions in the present system.

Represented in the delegation were officials of the British Columbia Prohibition Association, the churches, Women's Christian Temperance Union, Independent Order of Good Templars, and other bodies. The delegation had a special audience with the Cabinet, before whom its views were laid at some length by Mr. McIntyre.

During the discussion, Attorney-General Pooley raised the point that homebrew ingredients were allegedly being sold and advertised on the Mainland in the premises of a leading prohibition worker. He did not press the issue, however. The Cabinet promised consideration of the representations made.

Directors of Cariboo Gold Quartz Says Progress Is Being Made

Encouraging reports from the Barkerville area, where considerable activity is seen in development of lode gold properties, reached the British Columbia Mines Department yesterday from Dr. William B. Burnett and G. H. Solidakke, officials of the Cariboo Gold Quartz, Ltd., who called on Hon. W. A. McKenzie.

The directors of the company said operations were proceeding satisfactorily at the company's mine, and that considerable development was anticipated this year in the whole area. The warning was repeated that with the snow still on the ground, there should be no further influx of men to the district, though later in the year opportunities for employment may expand.

The Cariboo Gold Quartz property has become one of the key properties in the Cariboo area, and installation of a mill to handle ores at the site was made at the first of the year. Since then operations have proceeded satisfactorily, and gratifying results are being obtained, officials of the company said.

MOURN DEATH OF MRS. W. McKENZIE

After a long illness, Mrs. William F. McKenzie passed away Sunday afternoon at Vernon Villa. She had been a resident of Victoria for many years and leaves a wide circle of friends in this city and in Alaska and the Yukon to mourn their loss.

Mrs. McKenzie was born in Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, fifty-three years ago and came west in 1896 to join her brothers, Captain Patrick Martin and the late Captain Dan Martin. As Anna Martin she entered the St. Joseph's Hospital training school for nurses, and shortly after her graduation left for the North, residing for many years in Dawson City, nursing there in St. Mary's Hospital. Five years ago she came to Victoria with her children to make her home, her late residence being on Fort Street.

She is survived by her husband, in Dawson; one son, Desmond, also in Dawson, and a son and daughter in Victoria, John and Kathleen, as well as a brother in White Horse.

The remains are reposing at the Sands' Mortuary Chapel, from where the funeral will be held Thursday morning at 8:45 o'clock, proceeding to St. Andrew's Cathedral, where Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock by Rev. Father C. E. Evans. Interment will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

FUNERAL ON THURSDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida May Thompson will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Four Square Gospel Church, corner of Blanshard Street and Pandora Avenue. Pastor G. P. Duffield will officiate and interment will be in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

SAYS ACT IS SUBTERFUGE

Counsel Opposing Fuel Oil Tax Declares It Usurps Dominion Rights

"A Provincial Legislature cannot, by the employment of a subterfuge, encroach on the domain reserved to the Dominion by attempting to levy a form of revenue, which differs in its real nature from the semblance, which the Provincial Legislature of British Columbia had sought to give it," is one of the main contentions of opponents of the Provincial Fuel Oil Tax Act, which is now before the British Columbia Court of Appeal here.

The validity of the act is being attacked on the grounds that it is ultra vires in the province, because it is alleged, it is an excise tax; it interferes with the regulations of trade and commerce, and that it is indirect taxation. The province holds the act comes within the jurisdiction of the powers of the Legislature, and is therefore intra vires.

H. B. Robertson, K.C., counsel for the Attorney-General, completed his argument before the court, here, yesterday morning, and E. C. Mayers, K.C., who is acting for the Kingcome Navigation Company, respondents in the appeal, commenced his submissions after the noon adjournment.

QUESTION OF LAW

Mr. Mayers cited eight points in his argument in an endeavor to show that the province has no legal authority to impose the tax. He says the question of what taxation a Provincial Legislature is competent to exact is one of law.

His second point is: "At the time of Confederation there was a well-recognized classification, according to which, for instance, taxes on property and income were considered to be direct taxes, while duties of customs and excise were considered to be indirect taxes."

Mr. Mayers refers to the formula of economists, which Mr. Robertson submitted in his argument, as follows: "While a formula of the economists may usefully be consulted in the case of a new form of taxation, it is not permissable to use any such formula as a ground for transferring a tax universally recognized as belonging to one class, to a different class of taxation."

TRADE INTERFERENCE

Continuing his argument, Mr. Mayers stated that it was not competent to a Legislature to impose a tax on a commodity, that is, on an article of commerce at any stage of its circulation, because, by so taxing it, it unavoidably interferes with the regulation of trade and commerce.

Mr. Mayers contended that customs and excise are not taxation at all in the sense in which that word is used in the British North America Act, "but are duties imposed on commodities partly for the purpose of raising a revenue, but are also for the purpose of regulating trade and commerce," he said.

"If the revenue sought to be raised by the Fuel Oil Tax Act is in its true nature an import duty or excise, there is an end of the matter and no further inquiry is required or justified," Mr. Mayers submitted.

ENFORCEMENT CLAUSES

Mr. Mayers reviewed the wording of the act, and he declared that the act itself "is a mere mask to effect nothing less than an excise tax." He referred particularly to the enforcement clauses, which provide for an inspection of the vendor, records to be kept by the produce of fuel oil and a licence of one dollar per year for the privilege of selling the commodity. That, in effect, Mr. Mayers submitted, was the manner in which the tax was to be collected. The consumer was taxed upon the amount of fuel oil consumed, but the measure of taxation to be levied must have been supplied by the vendor or the producer. "These clauses, which appear in the Fuel Oil Tax Act, are in every excise tax act," Mr. Mayers stated.

The appeal is being continued today and the court has already indicated its intention to reserve its decision. In any event, the case will be carried to the Imperial Privy Council.

PREPARING FOR CIVIC SESSION

Union of B.C. Municipalities Names Special Resolutions Committee for Meeting

When the representatives of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities go into session at the City Hall here on March 1, they will be presented with an agenda that will embrace many reforms suggested for the betterment of civic and municipal administration.

Undoubtedly unemployment relief and taxation problems will occupy a prominent place in the discussions. Scores of resolutions are being received for consideration, and in order to facilitate the work of the convention, a special resolutions committee has been appointed to meet in Victoria on February 27 to scrutinize the resolutions and put them into shape for consideration by the delegates.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The special resolution committee consists of the following: Reeve William Crouch, of Saanich, chairman; Mayor Leeming, Victoria; Alderman George Miller, Vancouver; Mayor Johnstone, Kamloops; Mayor Wells Gray, New Westminster; Commissioner John Bennett, Burnaby; Reeve R. C. McDonald, Coquitlam; Mayor Love, Grand Forks; Commissioner Lane, Mission; Reeve J. T. Brown, Surrey; Reeve R. Gaucer, Richmond; A. J. Pilkington, Vancouver; Alderman John Worthington, Victoria; Mayor Barsby, Nanaimo; Mayor Prowse, Vernon; Mayor Roberts, Cranbrook, and Clerk Gordon, Revelstoke.

The convention will open at 10 o'clock on the morning of March 1, and it is planned to make representations to the municipal committee of the Legislature on March 7.

Resolutions for Taxation Reform To Be Considered

The City Council will give due consideration to the resolutions passed at the annual meeting of the Victoria Ratepayers' Association on Friday night, dealing with relief for home owners, insurance rates, educational costs and proposed changes in the system of taxation in municipalities.

At the regular meeting of the council, last night, the resolutions were formally presented and they will go to individual members of the council for review. The association has been asked to name a delegation of three to meet the public works committee next Friday afternoon for a full discussion of the proposals.

Says Application For Cold Storage Subsidy Was Made

In view of the refusal of the Federal Department of Agriculture to consider a subsidy for the cold storage located in Victoria on the grounds that formal application was not made to the department before the building was constructed, Alderman James Adam informed the City Council last night that he understood application was made for the subsidy in 1928, and he believed it would bring it within the jurisdiction of the Federal Act.

Alderman Adam said he had been informed that the officials of the Cold Storage Company were looking into the matter and a report of the results would be given to the council shortly. No further action will be taken until this report is received.

PRESSURE LOW; MERCURY HIGHER

Another new high in mean temperature, since the recent cold spell, was achieved in Victoria yesterday. The maximum temperature was 48 and the minimum 41, thus giving a mean temperature of 45.

The barometer remains abnormally low over Alaska, and is causing unsettled mild weather over this province. Cloudy weather with moderate temperatures is reported in Alberta and Saskatchewan, while colder weather is becoming general in Manitoba.

Victoria's forecast is fresh to high south and west winds, unsettled and mild with rain.

"I DON'T SMOKE

but on
Tooth Paste I take the advice of those who do"

● So runs a paragraph in a letter from a charming woman who is enthusiastic about Listerine Tooth Paste. We pass it on for what it is worth.

Do you know that Listerine Tooth Paste contains marvelous new cleansing and polishing agents that remove film faster, and give teeth a sparkle and cleanliness that ordinary dentifrices cannot accomplish?

These ingredients show unusual ability to get rid of unsightly odor-producing tobacco stains on teeth. Discolorations and tartar left by food disappear, of course, as if by magic.

If you are not now using Listerine Tooth Paste, we urge you to give it a trial. See how quickly and how thoroughly it performs its work.

Note how those fine cleansing and polishing agents reach between, in front, and behind teeth and erase stubborn tartar deposits, stains, and germ-laden film.

Note how much better your teeth look after you have used it for a few days.

We are rather proud of the fact that tens of thousands of men and women who could easily afford to pay high prices for a dentifrice, prefer Listerine Tooth Paste at 25¢.

After all, such preference is the most convincing proof of the quality of Listerine Tooth Paste and the remarkable results it achieves. Lambert Pharmacal Company, Toronto, Ontario.

Ceremony Is Pretty Event On Saturday

A very pretty and quiet home wedding took place on Saturday evening when Jean Ormiston, youngest daughter of Mrs. S. H. Ormiston, of 926 Island Road, and of the late Capt. S. H. Ormiston, became the bride of Mr. Jonas P. Arwick, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arwick, of Stavanger, Norway. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's mother, Rev. Dr. Gerald Breen Switzer officiating.

The bride wore a smart frock of blue crepe, with a hat of black straw, and carried a bouquet of rosebuds and freesias. Both she and the bridegroom were unattended, and only relatives and intimate friends witnessed the ceremony. Following the service there was a reception and wedding supper. All the reception rooms were tastefully decorated with flowers, and the supper table looked particularly attractive with the three-tier wedding cake in the centre. The bride and bridegroom received the felicitations of their friends standing in a prettily-arranged alcove formed by ivy-trimmed standards surmounted by candles.

Mr. and Mrs. Arwick will take up their residence on Sayward Avenue.

ENTERTAINED AT SMOKER

Among the artists at the Britannia Branch smoking concert on Saturday evening was Frank Merryfield, who kept the audience in a state of bewilderment with his sleight-of-hand tricks.

OLYMPIC GAMES ARE DESCRIBED

Archie McKinnon Tells First United Young People of Experiences at Los Angeles

A graphic story of his experiences and some personal close-ups of individual stars formed the theme of an address on "The Olympic Games," given last night by Archie McKinnon, popular Y.M.C.A. coach, at the regular meeting of First United Church Young People's Society. Miss Margaret Janes gave the first of a series of talks on "Technocracy."

Mr. McKinnon told of the ten years' campaign to bring the games to the United States and the newspaper propaganda of 1929-32. During the latter period, articles on the Olympics were published all over the world in three different languages. The construction of the Olympic Village, which housed all the competitors, was outlined.

MARCH PAST DESCRIBED

"Perhaps the most outstanding event of the whole show was the famous 'march past,' in which all the athletes paraded to their positions on the huge field, where they took the Olympic oath," said Mr. McKinnon. "I had the pleasure of meeting a large number of the contestants, and the impression that I got was the wonderful feeling of companionship that existed between athletes from different countries. It was a common occurrence to see two men, not able to speak each other's language, carrying on conversation by signs and pantomime while they had their meals together."

Announcement was made of the debate to be held next Monday on the subject: "Resolved, that granting of the franchise to women has been beneficial to society." Onwegos Young Men's Class will meet Volunteers Girls' Club. Douglas Smith, president, presided.

Given New Powers

The finance committee and the City Comptroller were given authority by the City Council last night to make purchases of bonds for the city's sinking fund between meetings of the aldermanic board. It was brought to the attention of the aldermen last night that good purchases had to be allowed to pass because the committee had no authority to make the purchases without authority of the council itself. The authority was necessary, owing to the changeable attitude of the bond market from day to day.

Orient Heavier Buyer Than Australia—Washington Second

VANCOUVER, Feb. 20.—British Columbia exports of lumber to Australia during January, 1933, gave first place to the Oriental market, while total foreign lumber exports from shipping centres in the Province were greater than shipments from either Washington or Oregon.

CANADA HAS PET ANIMAL

Passengers Recount Amusing Incident Aboard Ship on Arrival From East

The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada docked from Oriental ports, yesterday morning, looking spick and span after her annual overhaul in Hongkong. Captain A. J. Hailey was in command.

Passengers on board recounted an amusing incident aboard ship, several days out of Yokohama. One of two pet monkeys that had been consigned to Vancouver, broke loose and gave members of the ship's crew a merry chase up the riggings. The animal was finally captured after it obtained a lofty perch on the rim of the dummy funnel. One of the crew scaled the iron steps up the side of the funnel and retrieved the pet.

PASSENGERS ABOARD

One hundred and seventy-one passengers were brought in on the Canada, including fifty-five first class, twenty-six tourist class and ninety steerage. Thirty-two of the passengers embarked at Honolulu.

After setting down ninety tons of freight here, the liner proceeded to Vancouver, where she will make a quick turn around in order to catch up on the regular schedule. She will sail westbound in five days.

Several Victorians returned from vacation visits to Honolulu on the Canada. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Castle, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Rhodes, Dr. and Mrs. Allan W. Fraser, Miss Vida Shandley, Mrs. Joseph Sommer, Frank Sommer, Oscar Sommer and Arthur Dods.

It was an old-timer who confessed: "I started golf in order to get my mind off business. Now I'm looking for some other game that will get my mind back to business again."

It is estimated that 2,000 rivets will have to be replaced or tightened. The work will occupy two or three days.

CHINESE MARKET AWAITS CANADA

A friendly feeling exists toward Canadians by Chinese and when disturbed conditions are removed, there should be every opportunity for Canada to develop markets in China.

This is the opinion of O. A Jorgenson, treasurer of the British Columbia Pulp & Paper Company, who returned from a tour of the Far East aboard the Empress of Canada yesterday.

Mr. Jorgenson said he was well satisfied with the results of his tour and added that he was quite confident that China would be a heavy buyer in Canada as soon as conditions improved.

The Japanese viewpoint on trade matters was expressed by N. Hara, manager of the Kawasaka Kisen Kaisha, at Seattle, who returned on the same liner after a short visit to the homeland.

He said that shipping was active in Japan and business thriving due to inflation. He added, however, that imports showed a great increase last year over exports.

Lloyd Report Says Spanish Ship Is Sunk

LONDON, Feb. 20 (AP).—A Lloyd's dispatch from Gijon, Spain, today, said the Spanish steamer Pena Castilla had foundered near the Spanish port of Luarca, all members of the crew, save one, having been lost.

Lloyd's Registry does not list a ship named Pena Castilla, but it was suggested that the Pena Castillo, a vessel of 348 gross tons, of Bilbao, was involved.

Ss. Tacoma Is Refloated Off Oro Bay Flats

VANCOUVER, Feb. 20 (CP).—American Mail Line offices, agents for Tacoma-Oriental service, has been informed that Ss. Tacoma was safely refloated off a mudbank in Oro Bay, between Tacoma and Olympia. She stranded there on Friday night. Reports are that the ship was undamaged. She proceeded to Olympia. The vessel carries considerable cargo from British Columbia ports for the Orient.

The Perfect Lady—It wasn't the arrest I was resisting, yer honor. I struggled to get away because I didn't want the neighbors to think I was keeping company with a policeman.

Seven Vessels in Port During Past Thirty-Six Hours

WITH the arrival of the Ss. Emma Alexander from California ports at 9:45 last night, a busy session on the waterfront was brought to an end.

No less than seven ships have docked here from foreign ports within the past thirty-six hours. They include the Dalveen, Appledor, Benjamin Franklin, Empress of Canada, Protesilaus, Cortona and the Emma Alexander.

The Alexander ship, after debarking passengers here, proceeded to Seattle, where she will load freight for the return trip.

PROTESILAUS IS IN FROM ORIENT

Blue Funnel Liner Ends Shortage on Goldfish Market—Rice Cargo Discharged Here

The Blue Funnel liner Protesilaus docked from Oriental ports at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and, after discharging sixty tons of rice here, proceeded at 10:45 a.m. to Seattle, where she has a consignment of raw silk for discharge, in addition to general freight.

The shortage in goldfish on this continent is now at an end, as a result of several tubs full of fish, shipped from Japan on this vessel. There were between 40,000 and 50,000 goldfish on board. They will be put off at Seattle and distributed throughout the United States and Canada.

Three steerage passengers debarked here, while two first-class passengers proceeded to Seattle. Mail for this port amounted to 129 bags.

DONALDSON SHIP DOCKS FROM U.K.

Augmenting the Donaldson Line's service between the United Kingdom and the Pacific Coast, the Cortona arrived from British ports at 7 o'clock Sunday morning. She had 100 tons of general freight for this port and, after unloading, proceeded to Vancouver.

The Donaldson Line is adding two freighters to the service and it is expected that the schedule will be stepped up as a result. The Cortona is the first of the two to arrive here.

Lumber and Grain Ships Leave Port

After taking on 7,750 tons of grain here for United Kingdom ports, the freighter Dalveen cleared for sea at 9 o'clock last night.

The Appledore, which also was docked at Ogden Point, sailed yesterday for the British Isles. She loaded 800,000 feet of lumber here.

Golfers Enjoy Dinner Dance Held at Empress

Visiting Players and Local Enthusiasts Meet in First Delightful Social Function in Connection With C.P.R. Tournament

The weather conditions which so favorably greeted the opening day of the C.P.R. golf tournament at the Victoria Golf Club yesterday, seemed equally auspicious for the subsequent social gathering which gave the visiting golfers and the local players a delightful opportunity of meeting each other. At half-past six a predinner party was held in the two private dining-rooms of the hotel, where crowds of visitors were introduced to the Victorians, and a delightfully informal half-hour was spent. Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, who heads the social committee, assumed the role of hostess, and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hodges, of the Empress Hotel, and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Devenish, who are here from Winnipeg, assisted.

Dinner was served in the main dining-room, where a delightfully Springlike atmosphere was introduced with a profusion of plum blossom, daffodils and hyacinths, and dancing was enjoyed at intervals during the dinner. An excellent programme was played by the hotel orchestra, and when dinner was over, the guests all adjourned to the ballroom, where they were joined by many of the golf enthusiasts who had arrived later.

The ballroom was charmingly arranged, sofas and comfortable chairs, palms and flowers making the west end into a delightful sitting-room, while the centre of the floor was cleared for dancing. The platform was arranged as it will be for tonight's performance of "The Bing Boys," the great attraction of the second golf day. It was largely through the splendid co-operation of the committee and the gracious hospitality of the management that the affair was such a great success, and all points to the social side of the tournament week being even more delightful than last year.

Wedding Is Celebrated in Vancouver

A quiet wedding of interest to many Victorians took place in Vancouver, on Saturday last, at 6:30 p.m., when Rev. W. T. Keeling, of St. John's Church, Shaughnessy, united in marriage Miss Margaret McClintock, of Victoria, second daughter of Mrs. M. J. McClintock, of Ballymena, County Antrim, Ireland, and the late Mr. T. McClintock, and Mr. Ross John Atkens, of Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Atkens, of Epping, Essex, England.

The bride, looking smart in a wine serge suit trimmed with mink and felt hat en suite, and wearing a corsage bouquet of white carnations, was given in marriage by Mr. A. H. Dobson, of Victoria. The bride was attended by Miss Isabel Dallain, of Victoria, who wore a tailored suit of imperial blue tweed, with ribbon hat to match, with which was worn a brown fox fur and corsage bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Harvey Dobson, of Vancouver, acted as best man.

Following the ceremony, a dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hennesley. The table was decorated with daffodils and tall yellow tapers and centred with a two-tier wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Atkens will reside in Kerrisdale, Vancouver.

Armstrong Scene Of Wedding of Interest Here

A wedding of interest, here, was celebrated in Armstrong, on February 9, when Margaret Pelly, eldest daughter of Mrs. Pelly and the late Mr. Conway Pelly, of Armstrong, was united in marriage to George Norman, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Leigh Worsley, of Aughton, England, Rev. W. Paton, rector of the Armstrong Anglican Church, officiating.

Wearing a graceful robe of ivory flat crepe and heirloom veil of old Limerick lace, and carrying a sheaf of lilies and pale pink carnations, the bride was attended by one bridesmaid, Miss Joyce Hawkins, who wore an attractive dress of pale mauve crepe de Chine, with matching mobcap of net. The best man was Mr. E. Poole.

From the church the bridal party went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Poole, of Armstrong, where the wedding breakfast was served, and later in the day the bride and bridegroom left for Vancouver, where the honeymoon was spent. They have now taken up their residence at 1060 St. David Street, Victoria, Mr. Worsley being a member of the office staff of Pemberton & Son.

Joseph Szgeti To Play Here On March 27

Monday, March 27, will be a red-letter day in violinistic and otherwise musical circles in Victoria for, according to information received yesterday, Josef Szgeti, the great Hungarian violinist, will play here that night under the auspices of Mrs. J. O. Cameron.

Accompanied by Nikita de Magaloff, his accompanist, Mr. Szgeti has only recently returned from a tour of Australia, New Zealand, and the Orient, and press notices from those countries agree with those from almost everywhere else, that he is a second Kreisler. He already enjoys the distinction of having been re-engaged for several consecutive seasons both by the Philadelphia and the New York Philharmonic Symphony orchestras. On February 2 he won great applause in his New York recital for his masterly interpretation of Tartini's "Devil's Trill" sonata, and the first sonata of Ernest Bloch's, both of which he will probably include in his Victoria programme. In the role of accompanist, according to the critics, Mr. Magaloff was more than equal to the demands made upon him, and won great praise for his "virtuosity and artistry." He was also widely acclaimed after the recital for his own part as piano soloist, his group showing him to great advantage in this capacity.

An uplift worker, visiting a prison, was much impressed by the melancholy attitude of one man she found.

"My poor man," she sympathized "what is the length of your term?"

"Depends on politics, lady," replied the melancholy one, "I'm the warden."

CHAPTER XXX

"Let us be happy, Bruce," June said. "I'll not be obstinate any more. It was my fault that this all happened, and I want to make up to you for it."

"No, it wasn't your fault. I had been getting to that point for weeks, I think, and our argument that night crystallized it."

"You're glad you are here now, aren't you?"

"I'll be glad if you will do me a big favor."

"You know I will—what is it?"

"Marry me."

"Bruce . . ."

"Yes, I do mean it. You were right—we should have been married long ago. But we will start making up for our mistakes as soon as possible—that is, if you are going to accept me . . ."

"Oh I am, darling. Right away. I've lost my job, and I have to marry someone . . ."

"I'm the handiest. Do you know if I had checked out, you would have been much better off? I had willed you my money."

"You dear! But this is much nicer."

Bruce had not mentioned Kay since he began to recover; he had made it apparent that she was no longer to stand between them. Together they would face whatever necessary.

Dr. Henderson recommended a sea voyage for Bruce, and perhaps the Swiss Alps for the Summer. But why not the yacht, Bruce asked? They could be alone on it, and he had long ago promised June such a cruise. So orders were given to get the vessel in condition.

Bruce now insisted that June take a suite at a well-known Park Avenue hotel. She could be married from there. He was going home for a few days to put his affairs in order.

The quiet, inert days at the hospital were now exchanged for feverish ones of shopping. June was buying a trousseau. Bruce had insisted on this. It was to be her first and last wedding, he pointed out, and they would have it right—a church ceremony, a few of their intimate friends.

It was not hard to persuade June. Hartley and Lucy were coming, and Jane Palmer and Hickory Ferguson from Rolla. Everything was perfect had it not been for the shadow that hung over them, despite all efforts to disperse it.

They were to be married May the fifth. Their pictures had appeared in the papers with the announcement, but this time in the social columns, as well as the news. June was dressing for dinner. Bruce was coming to get her. Phil was giving a dinner party for them in the penthouse he had furnished for June. He had reverted to his role of philosophical living and made friends with Bruce. And Bruce, in his gentler, sweeter manner since he tried to take his life, had accepted the overture and washed the thing up.

June's sapphires lost at Phil's party, had not been recovered. But Bruce had given her pearls for a wedding gift. Tonight she wore them for the first time, because he had asked her to. Just two more days . . .

Bruce came up. There was an ill suppressed excitement in his manner. Her heart clamored wildly—something happened now! He took two cablegrams out of his pocket!

"I've had news," he said. "Read this one first. It's from Andre Renoux, the chap I sent from France to Italy on the investigation."

June's frightened eyes saw that the message had been filed at Sydney, Australia.

"Your sister alive and well. Complete details follow."

"Kay alive and well! Oh Bruce . . ." June clung to him, unable to express her joy, her eyes swimming with tears so that she could not read the second message. "What does it say . . . read it to me . . ."

"So sorry for all this horrible mistake. Will telephone you at home approximately three a.m. your time—Kay."

"How perfectly wonderful! But what is she doing in Australia?"

"I haven't the faintest notion—but she's safe. Gosh, I feel as if I could really hold up my head again!"

Kay's call did not come through until nearly four o'clock. June's eyes were focused on Bruce's expression as he talked, or rather listened. She had never seen such relief, such a broad grin on his face. When he finally hung up, he grabbed June and swung her about in a delightful frenzy.

"We're going to Australia, old lady, what do you think of that?"

"Don't be a goose, Bruce—tell me—hurry."

"Ye gods, to think of all we've suffered, and here she was perfectly happy all the time. Come here." He yanked her down on the couch and covered her with exuberant kisses before he was composed sufficiently to relate the gist of his talk with Kay.

"I'll tell you the big news first—she's married. Yep, married to Ramon. And have I been doing that bird an injustice! He's in the wilds of central Australia somewhere—I didn't get it exactly—raising sheep. And when Kay suddenly appeared in his front yard he wouldn't let her cross the threshold until he had dragged her off to a minister and married her. It seems he wanted to all the time and it was she who held out, hoping to secure my consent and the money along with it."

"But what a dirty trick! Imagine her letting you go through all this . . ."

"No, wait a minute. She sent an air mail letter from San Francisco saying she was joining Ramon, but not telling me where. She didn't want me to be worried about her, but she was afraid if she told me where she was going that I'd stop her."

"Was she Lily Brown?"

"She was, until she got to the coast, so you see we weren't so clever after all. This is how she worked it. She had her twenty-five thousand in a safety deposit box in a Bronx bank under the name of Lily Brown. Kay is very forgetful, and she was afraid if she ever did decide to run away she might forget her passport, so just to make sure she enclosed it with the money. And that turned out to be the very thing that enabled her to get away as she did. Only it wasn't her passport—it belonged to her maid—when mother and all of us took that trip around the world this maid went with us, and the passport was still in effect."

"But how could she use her maid's passport? The pictures wouldn't be the same."

"She took a chance on that—they are not unlike as to general type—anyhow, she got away with it."

"Tell me the rest—where she went from the drug store."

"Out the Broadway entrance. But she didn't take another cab. She got in the subway, on impulse—it yawned right in her face—and rode down to the village. You see she hadn't made up her mind to run away, then—she just wanted to worry me. Estelle Vincent—a girl under whom Kay studied modelling—has a studio down there. But Estelle wasn't at home. Kay found the key under the hall carpet where Estelle used to leave it for her, in case she'd be out when Kay came to work on her modelling."

"So Kay went in and went to bed. And the following morning she put on some of Estelle's clothes, went to the Bronx bank and got her money—this was the day after New Year's—she slept all that day. Then she bought a few things and caught a plane for San Francisco that afternoon."

"On the plane, she wrote me a letter, which she mailed when she got to San Francisco. They were several hours late, so she missed a boat she meant to take to Honolulu. She did go to a department store, where she shopped most of the day. That evening, she caught a tramp steamer for Tahiti, and from there went to Wellington, New Zealand, and on to Sydney."

"But didn't she see the papers in San Francisco—know you were searching for her?"

"Of course, but she thought I'd get the letter in a couple of days."

"How did this secret service man find her?"

"He had traced Ramon to Sydney, and in the hotel there had come across Kay in the lobby and recognized her. It seems they live in an inaccessible part of the country, and this is the first time they have been to the city. They had come in for a little lark, and to buy supplies. Kay says Ramon is doing very well, and she loves ranch life and doesn't mind losing the money now."

"But I don't see why she didn't write."

"She says they are really cut off from the world. Of course, she saw no American papers, and I suppose the Sydney papers dropped any mention of the case before she arrived. However, she has written—Ramon made her write, she says, because they know I wouldn't make a fuss now—I'm going to be an uncle . . ."

"Why, how perfectly beautiful!"

"That is why we are going to Australia—she wouldn't want to risk the voyage."

"Bruce, will Kay lose her money because she married Ramon?" This had been worrying her.

"I'm afraid so. But I am going to see a lawyer about it—there may be a loophole. If not, I'm going to divide my money with her, dollar for dollar."

"That's sweet of you—I'm so glad."

"I must be taking you home so you can get some sleep. I'll snatch a few hours, and then I'll have to notify everybody that the mystery is solved. That means an exhaustive round with the newspapers. Do you realize that the day after tomorrow is our wedding day? After that I think we are going to retire to private life for a change."

"Grand!"

"Grand!"

"Can you reconcile yourself to being plain Mrs. Bishop, instead of a popular singer?"

"Oh yes, I'll have a countess for a sister-in-law. I can bask in reflected glory."

"Gosh, I never thought of that! But a sheep raising countess won't do you much good. How about the movie project—are you going to regret that?"

"I'm not going to regret anything, darling—I'll adore being plain Mrs. Bishop," she declared, as he swooped her up into his arms.

"You'll never be plain anything—always a beautiful 'someone to love.'"

That afternoon, the only remaining mystery connected with Kay's disappearance was cleared up, when a second cablegram was received:

"Found letter in pocket of suitcase that I thought I mailed in San Francisco. Can hear you say that's just like Kay. Please forgive and will name baby after you—second name I mean. We both wish you and June loads of happiness. Hurry over. Love—Kay."

The End.

Where Blast Took Big Toll

THE big gas tank of the Neunkirchen, Germany, ironworks, which suddenly exploded recently, wrecking the industrial section of that city, caused fatalities estimated as high as seventy-five, and injured 200 more persons. People of some distance from Neunkirchen thought there had been an earthquake. Among the dead was a leading industrialist, Dr. Pupp.

Sleep Tonight

this instant, natural way

Feel like a new person tomorrow

Sleep "like a top," wake up clear eyed, full of the joy of living

INSTEAD of going cheerlessly to bed to-night, go cheerfully—with a big cup of hot Ovaltine. Drink it slowly. Enjoy its delicious flavour. Then settle back comfortably . . . and sleep . . . all night long.

What OVALTINE is:

Ovaltine is a pure, wholesome food concentrate made of fresh eggs, barley (malt extract) and fresh full cream milk—all from Canadian farms. It is processed scientifically to supply complete nourishment without bulk. While it is the standard mealtime and between meals beverage of athletes, children, brain workers, convalescents, old people and others who wish to build up body, brain and nerve strength, it is also known as "The world's best night-cap" because it quickly overcomes the causes of sleeplessness.

This is HOW IT ACTS:

First, Ovaltine taken as a warm drink at bed time, tends to draw excess blood away from the head. And combats mental overactivity which may be keeping you awake.

Then, Ovaltine is high in "diastase" which is a food property of the malt, retained by the exclusive Ovaltine process of manufacture. Diastase has the unique power to digest the starch content of any starchy food lying heavily in your stomach, thus relieving digestive unrest.

With the stomach soothed, digestion proceeding normally and pressure of blood in the brain relieved, your nervous system quickly responds to Nature's natural desire for sleep.

As you sleep, Ovaltine feeds your worn nerves and builds up all your vital forces.

Vitamins and other elements present.

Ovaltine is unique because it supplies every food element required for complete nutrition of body, brain and nerves—all in correct balance.

As well as diastase, which lightens the digestive burden, it supplies all the essential vitamins, including the anti-neuritic Vitamin B.

Another constituent is Organic Phosphorous, or Lecithin, a most necessary element for restoring brain and nerve tissues.

Ovaltine also supplies calcium to the system under the most favorable conditions to promote calcium metabolism and provide proper calcium balance in the blood.

Start tonight

Put an end to sleepless nights. Take a cup of hot Ovaltine and see how soundly you sleep and how fresh you'll feel in the morning. You'll soon notice a wonderful change in your ability to work or play and withstand fatigue. Try it. There is no cane or beet sugar in Ovaltine. It does not cause fatness. Make it according to the simple directions on the tin. Add sugar to taste if desired.

Sold at all stores, in air-tight tins, 4 sizes. The largest size is very economical.

ALSO SERVED AT SODA FOUNTAINS.

Beatty, M.P.P., will take up, with the Department of Public Works of the Province the subject of connecting Port Renfrew on the West Coast with the city by means of a pack trail. The suggestion was made that such work could be done as an unemployment relief undertaking.

The request came to the Chamber from Port Renfrew in a letter from W. J. Clarke and S. M. Lamb in which it was pointed out that with the shutting down of the work on the West Coast road Port Renfrew was left in a very isolated position although only about sixty miles from Victoria. Only a few miles of trail remain to be constructed.

It was represented that only two large bridges would be needed. The rest of the work would be comparatively light and would lend itself altogether to hand labor.

Muriel (at pantomime rehearsal): "Who's the prosperous-looking Johnny? Not in the show, is he?"

Frank: "Well, we're trying to persuade him to put up the money for the production—our 'Principal Buoy,' so to speak!"

CORBETT AND MISS MONEY WIN MEDAL ROUNDS

Marjorie Leeming And Mary Campbell Are Highly Ranked

Two Victoria Net Players Rated Two and Three Respectively in Canada—Marcel Rainville Tops Men's Division and Olive Wade Women's List

TORONTO, Feb. 20. — Marcel Rainville, fiery little Montreal Davis Cup star, heads Canada's ranking tennis list for 1933, while Dr. Jack Wright, veteran ace from Vancouver, is unlisted.

While no explanation was made when the ranking list was issued at the annual general meeting here, Saturday, of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association, it was believed Wright, the Dominion's Davis Cup mainstay, had played so little championship tennis during 1932 that his name was not considered.

The association went on record as opposed "at the present time" to open tournaments, as endorsed recently by the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

Vancouver Lawn Tennis Club was awarded the 1933 Canadian championships.

The 1934 championships will be held in Toronto during the city's centenary celebration.

LOCALS RANKED HIGHLY

Mrs. C. Worsley, the former Olive Wade, Toronto, was given top ranking in the women's section. Miss Marjorie Leeming and Miss M. Campbell, both of Victoria, were ranked second and third, respectively.

Gilbert Nunns, Toronto, was ranked behind Rainville, with Walter Martin, Toronto and Regina, third; Charlie Leslie, Montreal, fourth, and Roland Longtin, Montreal, fifth.

Championship dates and selection of Canada's Davis Cup team was left in the hands of the general council. George H. Meldrum, Toronto, was re-elected president. Other officers' names are: Eastern vice-president, John M. Miller, Montreal; Western vice-president, F. E. Nicholson, Vancouver; secretary, J. de N. Kennedy, Toronto; treasurer, W. G. Detroit Defeats Bruins to Pass Rangers — Maroons Held to Draw

DETROIT, Feb. 20.—Detroit Red Wings regained first place in the American division of the National Hockey League, yesterday evening, by downing Boston Bruins, 2 to 1.

Both squads set up a terrific pace throughout. The Wings scored in the first and second periods, Lewis and Aurie tallying, before the Bruins opened a third period spurt that kept the crowd on its feet. Joe Lamb got the Boston goal early in the final session.

The victory gave Detroit a one-point edge over the New York Rangers, their rivals for league leadership, and four points over the third-place Bruins.

Summary

First period—1, Detroit, Lewis (Voss-Aurie), 17:27. Penalties: Stewart, Smith, Emms, Evans, Lamb.

SCORELESS DRAW

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. — On the strength of a remarkable exhibition of goaltending, Montreal Maroons yesterday evening played Chicago Black Hawks to a scoreless tie in a rough, interesting National League hockey game.

During the regular periods Goalie Dave Kerr had forty-one stops to twenty-eight for Chuck Gardiner, of the Hawks, and some of his work was almost like magic. Muah March and Paul Thompson, among others, had what looked like set-up shots, but Kerr made all kinds of attempts look the same.

The first period and a few seconds after it end provided two fist fights and five major penalties. Archie Wilcox and Roger Jenkins drew majors after hammering each other, and just after the siren sounded, ending the frame, Dave Trottier and Pudge Mackenzie tangled. During the battle, Lionel Conacher and Jenkins got into it, and Conacher, Trottier and Mackenzie were given five-minute penalties.

Summary

First period—No score. Penalties: Jenkins (major), Wilcox (major), Coulter.

Second period—No score. Penalties: Mackenzie (major), Trottier (major), Conacher (major), Jenkins, Brydson.

Third period—No score.

Overtime period—No score. Penalties: March, Smith.

SENATORS DEFEATED

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Ottawa's attempt to draw up into the charmed circle of play-off berths received a setback yesterday evening, when the Senators lost, 3 to 1, in a National Hockey League clash with the New York Americans.

The Americans tightened their hold on their coveted play-off position, third in the international division, by scoring a goal in each period against the last-place holders.

Nick Wasnie, on loan from Montreal Canadiens, was the outstanding figure in the American victory, and the lanky right winger scored two goals in speedy plays, the first unassisted. He shared honors with Gordon "Doggie" Kuhn, former New Haven player, who celebrated his National League debut by sinking the second New York tally without assistance.

A fast pass from Cooney Weiland to Hec Kilrea brought Ottawa's only score.

Summary

First period—1, Americans, Wasnie, 12:56.

Second period — 2, Americans, Kuhn, 6:08; 3, Ottawa, Kilrea (Weiland), 15:03. Penalties, Dutton.

Third period—4, Americans, Wasnie (Himes), 2:01. Penalties: Rockburn.

HEALS RANGE TO BE SCENE OF B.C. MEET

Provincial Marksmen Will Gather for Important Rifle Tourney in July

VANCOUVER, Feb. 20.—Because Blair rifle range, on the North Shore, is uncompleted, annual rifle matches of British Columbia Rifle Association will be held at Heals Range, Victoria, in July. Such was the decision reached by the association council at a meeting in Hotel Georgia. The shoot will commence either on July 4 or July 11, and will last several days.

It was announced that a rifle, which once belonged to the Lord Mayor of London, and was presented to the association, in 1873, will again be offered in competition. It has been donated by the family of the late Captain Adolphus Peele, of New Westminster, and will be presented to the regiment of the winner of the aggregate match for Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster. General J. Duff Stuart, V.D., a veteran rifle shot, has also offered a trophy for competition, conditions of which will be decided later.

The gathering was attended by twenty-seven council members from all parts of the province. Lieutenant-Colonel H. F. G. Letson, M.C., president, occupied the chair.

HOBBS PLAYS FOR M.C.C. XI

Veteran Cricketer Shows Old-Time Mastery in Exhibition Match in Australia

NEWCASTLE, Australia, Feb. 20 (CP).—A team representative of the northern districts of New South Wales appeared to be in a good position to score a first-innings lead in an exhibition cricket match over the visiting M.C.C. today.

The Northern Districts XI was out for 322 (Beattie, 53; Chipperfield, 152; Bowes, three for 64, and Brown, two for 49); while the M.C.C. scored 240 for eight wickets.

The regular test match players for England were not all playing in the match, their places being taken by some of the substitutes of the English aggregation, and by P. F. Warner, sixty-year-old manager, and Jack Hobbs, former test player who is accompanying the team in a journalistic capacity.

Hobbs played with all his old-time mastery and was in for nearly two hours to score 44. The Nawab of Pataudi scored 87, not out.

Had Best Gross Score

GORDON Money, Qualicum Beach golfer, who turned in the best gross card in the qualifying round of the Empress Midwinter golf tournament, yesterday, at the Victoria Golf Club. Money was out in 35 and back in the same figures for a 70—one over par. His handicap of nine gave him a net 61, one stroke behind the medalist, O. Corbett, of Gorge Vale.

Sunderland to Meet Derby in Feature of Cup Quarter-Finals

High-Ranking First Division Clubs Will Be Opponents in Next Round—Burnley to Battle Manchester City—Everton to Tackle Luton Town

LONDON, Feb. 20 (CP).—A battle royal between Sunderland and Derby County, high-ranking First Division soccer aggregations, appeared the feature of the quarter-final round of the English Cup announced today.

And while these two teams are tearing at each other Manchester City should have little trouble in winning the semi-final over the Second Division outfit from Burnley. Fresh from a fine victory over Leeds United, Everton look like favorites over Luton Town, present holders of eighteenth place in the Southern Section.

Contestants for the fourth bracket cannot be determined until two replays are concluded from Saturday's fifth round.

Brighton and West Ham United played to a 2-2 draw, while Middlesbrough and Birmingham were unable to score. The respective winners of these two tilts will clash in the next round, to be played March 4.

Manchester City enters the sixth round as sole representative of the eight teams who reached that stage last year. With the highly-rated outfits of Arsenal, Aston Villa and Sheffield Wednesday out of the picture, it is anything but a foregone conclusion as to which of the survivors will come through.

STRONG OPPOSITION

To attain the sixth round the eight teams have each done their share in elliminating strong outfits, so that the only certainty about the great final at Wembley on April 29 is that it will be fought by two teams who have won their spurs in battle and are proven of great strength.

Draw follows:

Derby vs. Sunderland.

Burnley vs. Manchester City.

Everton vs. Luton Town.

Brighton or West Ham United vs. Middlesbrough or Birmingham.

FEESEY CUP MATCH BILLED SUNDAY AT UPLANDS GOLF CLUB

All entries for the Feesey Cup must be in the hands of the secretary at Uplands Golf Club at 4 p.m. Friday, at which time the draw will be made. Full handicaps will be allowed for the eighteen-hole qualifying round, while three-quarters allowance will prevail in the match play. The sixteen low scores on Sunday will continue under match play, the first and second rounds being scheduled for March 5, and the semi and final the following week. The present holder is A. G. Mackay, but he will not be on hand to defend the trophy. A. Craig, Sr., last year's runner-up, is expected to be among the entrants, however, and some good matches are expected before the winner is decided.

Jeby to Defend Title Against Dundee Mar. 17

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (AP).—Ben Jeby, conqueror of Frankie Battaglia, of Winnipeg, recognized as world middleweight champion, will defend his title against Vince Dundee, prominent challenger, in a fifteen-round bout on March 17, Madison Square Garden officials announced today.

JOYCE WETHERED IS THROUGH WITH COMPETITIVE GOLF

LONDON, Feb. 20 (AP). — Joyce Wethered, generally regarded as the world's greatest woman golfer, today went to work as an advisor of golf clothes and equipment and incidentally settled her status as an amateur.

Gorge Vale Golfer and Up-Island Entry Head Qualifiers at Oak Bay

Former Shoots Net 60 to Cop Honors in Midwinter Meet by Lone Stroke, While Latter Cards 71 to Win by Same Margin—Gordon Money Turns in Best Gross

Shooting steady golf over heavy fairways and tricky greens, William "Ollie" Corbett, Gorge Vale Club, and Miss Mary Money, Qualicum Beach, carried off the medal honors in the qualifying rounds of the fifth annual Empress Midwinter Tournament, at the Oak Bay links, yesterday, with net cards of 60 and 71, respectively. Corbett, playing in his first major tourney, nosed out Gordon Money, Qualicum Beach, by a lone stroke, while Miss Money came through by the same margin over Mrs. Alex Watson. The best golf of the day was exploded from the clubs of Gordon Money, who kept on even terms with Old Man Par nearly the whole way, and returned a score of 70 to win low gross honors by two strokes from Dave Randall, of Uplands.

Cards of 73 or better qualified in the men's handicap championship, while scores of 82's gained places in the women's division. A draw was necessary in both classes to settle last qualifying places. G. H. Barnard lost out in the men's, and Miss Barbara Bullock-Webster was the unfortunate one in the women's. W. C. Fisher, Calgary, walked off with the special award donated by the Victoria Golf Club for the visitor, staying at the Empress Hotel, turning in the lowest net, while Mrs. R. K. Benriston, Winnipeg, won the women's prize.

MONEY SHOWS FORM

In checking home with the best card of the day, Gordon Money shot brilliant golf. He reached the turn in 35, two over perfect figures, and then traveled over the incoming route in the same total, which is one under par. Money had two birdies on the first nine, scoring deuces on the second and eighth holes. Coming home, Money registered three under par figures, one at the twelfth and the others on the seventeenth and eighteenth holes. His card is one of the best turned in during the Winter golfing season.

Corbett had his clubs working in fine form to head the handicap list. Starting off with 5, 3, 4, and finishing with 3, 3, 4, the Gorge Vale entrant finished the outgoing route in 37, four over par. The medalist found the first three holes coming home tough and went over par on all of them. Corbett rallied during the last few holes and finished strong with an incoming score of 42 to break eighty and win out.

Playing together, Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Hew Paterson shot the course in the same gross figures, and will play off for the Rose Bowl, donated by the Rotary Club, Saturday morning. Mrs. Jackson played good golf on the first nine, which she carded in 40, but found the last part of the route difficult and had several over-par holes to finish with a 48. Mrs. Paterson reached the halfway mark in 42, and then came home in 46 to finish in a deadlock with her playing partner.

FINE WEATHER

Fine weather greeted the field from early morning and lasted throughout the day. Several times the sun broke through the clouds, and only at one stage did rain fall. A heavy downpour came down just as the fair sex started off, but it didn't last long, and all the competitors got a break as far as the weather was concerned. Phil Taylor, club professional, acted as starter and got the fields away in fine time.

In conjunction with the tournament, a par competition will be held Thursday. Competitors are asked to select their partners and arrange their starting times. The same goes for the hidden-hole competition Saturday. All entries must be made with the starter at the first tee. Competitors in the mixed foursomes, on Friday, will also choose their partners and arrange for their starting times.

VANCOUVER WHIPS NANAIMO 49-3 IN RUGBY EXHIBITION

NANAIMO, Feb. 20.—In an exhibition game yesterday, Vancouver swamped Nanaimo Mosquitoes, 49 to 3. The visitors showed many fine passing movements, led by Pinkham and Roxborough. Vancouver scored twenty-two points in the first half, holding Nanaimo scoreless, and added twenty-seven points in the second, while Nanaimo managed to cross their line for an unconverted try. A slippery ball prevented good handling, Nanaimo being unable to make any showing.

OFFICIALS FORCED TO INTERVENE

Daytona Beach Heads Will Not Let Sir Malcolm Campbell Take Risks

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 20 (AP).—Terse mandates by racing officials tonight thwarted plans of Sir Malcolm Campbell for taking his giant Bluebird racing car on to the beach tomorrow for test trials preliminary to a proposed assault upon his own world's automobile speed record of 253 miles an hour.

Admittedly irked by long delays waiting for a favorable beach, the forty-eight-year-old Briton announced he intended to take his car on to the course for a test run tomorrow, and requested racing officials to set up the necessary timing apparatus.

The officials, however, decided the beach was not in condition for Sir Malcolm to make even a trial run with safety, and told him they would not prepare the course for tomorrow.

"Our trouble with this great British sportsman is that he has so much courage he is willing to take a chance with his car and his life—a chance we have determined he shall not take," C. B. Wingate, president of the Daytona Beach-Volusia County Racing Association said.

GETTING FED UP

Confronted with the mandates, Sir Malcolm reluctantly acquiesced to the orders.

"I am getting fed up on being told from day to day that the beach will not be in condition for run the next day," he said, during a talk with newspapermen. "Everything is so uncertain about these trials. Maybe we will have a good beach tomorrow; but if we don't plan ahead to get the course set up there won't be sufficient time then to get ready if we do find the course is good.

"Then, too, word has been going out here and back to England that I have cold feet, when obviously it is apparent to anyone who knows anything about my trials that they have been delayed continuously because the beach has not been in proper condition."

EXPLANATION FOR SUNDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

A Blinking Fish—The true shark (genus Carcharhidae) is distinguished by the possession of a nictitating (blinking) membrane or special eyelid, which is controlled by a special set of muscles. The membrane is situated at the anterior corner of the eye and is capable of being drawn across the eyeball in a characteristic blinking expression. A typical representative of the genus of the blinking shark is the Blue Shark (Carcharias Glaucus), typical of about forty species.

Saffron—The saffron plant (cultivated crocus), a likeness of which has been discovered in the palace of the legendary Minos of Crete, is mentioned in the writings of Homer twenty-eight centuries ago. It was so precious as recently as 400 years ago that its adulteration could only be expiated by being burned alive in Germany. In all the thirty-seven centuries of its cultivation it has never borne seed, bearing instead small offsets at the base of its corms (bulbs). Its propagation is through the corms, which are planted in the soil and allowed to remain there for a number of years.

ILLINOIS CAGERS WILL PERFORM HERE TONIGHT

Bearded Quintette To Oppose Ribbons At High Gymnasium

House of David Basketballers to Try Conclusions With Local Champions in Feature Game—Dad's Cookies and Harmony to Meet in Preliminary at 8 o'Clock

Boasting of victories over some of the smartest quintettes along the southern and Pacific slopes, the House of David basketball squad from Benton Harbor, Illinois, will make their debut before Victorians tonight at the High School gymnasium, when they clash with the Blue Ribbons, senior city and Island titleholders, in an exhibition fixture. Dad's Cookies and Harmony, two fast-traveling squads in the women's senior division, will meet in the curtain raiser at 8 o'clock. Tommy Macedo will officiate at both fixtures. One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to attend.

Without any doubt, the visiting bearded cagers are a classy aggregation and are expected to give one of the finest displays ever witnessed on a local court. Seven players are included on the team, and all are college graduates and know basketball from every angle. After leaving their home state, the touring team traveled through the Southern States with great success and then headed up the Coast, meeting the best of opposition. They defeated the powerful University of Nevada quintette, 25-21, and then boosted their stock by coming through with a decision over St. Mary's College.

LOST ONE GAME

House of David have dropped one verdict so far when they went under to Pacific College after an overtime period. Johnny Buchanan and Floyd Johnston, two sharp-shooting forwards, are said to be the stars of the team. Their passing, faking of shots, dribbling and trickiness is pretty to watch at all times. All the members are close to six feet or over and play their position like professionals.

Blue Ribbons have been working out regularly for the game and are reported in first class condition. Chuck Chapman, Joe Ross, Tommy Little and Alf McKeown will share guard duties, while the front line will be made up of Lynn and Muzz Patrick, Art Chapman, Claude Sluggett and Johnny Craig. To date the Ribbons have not tasted defeat and hope to maintain their unbeaten mark at the expense of the visitors.

CHUCK CHAPMAN

skipper of the Blue Ribbons, who will guide his city championship squad against the House of David cagers tonight at the High School gymnasium. Chapman will be seen in action on the back division.

Dad's Cookies and Harmony will be at full strength for the preliminary. Fircrest Course to Stage Championship in June—Jefferson President

SEATTLE, Feb. 20 (AP).—Members of the Pacific Northwest Professional Golfers' Association decided to stand firm on their recent decision to withdraw from the Professional Golfers' Association, of America.

At a meeting of the local regional body, at the University Golf Club, the balloting fell one vote short of the two-thirds majority required for rescinding the action previously taken.

The meeting also awarded the Pacific Northwest open champion tournament to the Fircrest Club, Tacoma, for dates in June, still to be definitely set. No decision was reached regarding the Pacific Northwest pro-amateur or the assistant professionals' championship meet.

CHRISTIAN RESIGNS

In addition, the resignation of Neil Christian, as president of the Pacific Northwest professional body, was formally accepted. Vice-President Bill Jefferson, of the University Golf Club, will fill the office until April 1, when the break with the national P.G.A. becomes effective.

An announcement was made for the Washington State Professional Association that its annual match play championship tournament will be held at the Broadmoor Golf Club, Seattle, during the third week of May.

First Car to Set Record at Daytona Beach

THIS car and this pilot—a German-built Blitzen Benz, driven by "Wild Bob" Burman, shown at the wheel, set the first world's auto speed record on the sands of Daytona Beach, Fla., April 23, 1911. Burman, later killed in a crash, set a mark of 141.73 miles per hour. Sir Malcolm Campbell, attempting to set a new record over the same track, hopes to drive his giant Bluebird twice as fast as Burman's speed. Burman's daughter, Florence, is now a speedboat race pilot.

EARLIER HURT OF BRAIN WAS DEATH CAUSE

Blows Only Caused Aggravation to Schaaf, Physicians Declare

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (AP).—Inflammation of the brain, probably due to an attack of influenza, was the primary cause of the death of Ernie Schaaf, in the opinion of Dr. Charles Norris, chief medical examiner for New York City.

Microscopic examination of the brain, Dr. Norris said in a final report, revealed the Boston heavyweight was suffering from inflammation of the brain before he entered the ring to face Primo Carnera in a fifteen-round bout in Madison Square Garden, February 10. Schaaf was knocked out in the thirteenth round by a left jab to the nose. He collapsed and died in Polyclinic Hospital last Tuesday, after an operation to relieve pressure on the brain.

Dr. Norris said that Schaaf's general condition interfered with his boxing skill so that he was less able to avoid blows.

CAUSED PARALYSIS

"In addition," said the report, signed by Dr. Norris and his assistant, Dr. Benjamin Morgan Vance, "blows not in themselves dangerous aggravated the meningo-encephalitis (inflammation), with the result that oedema (swelling) of the brain cerebral compression and paralysis of the left side of the body developed."

Schaaf had suffered an attack of influenza about three weeks before the bout and this, Dr. Norris said, could be charged with causing the inflammation "with a reasonable degree of probability."

The final report reveals the brain ailment antedating the bout, but but adds that the blows Schaaf suffered aggravated the condition.

BILL COOK SHOWS WAY TO SCORERS

Rangers' Sharpshooter Leading N.H. League—Brother Bun Second

MONTREAL, Feb. 20 (CP).—Not only did Bill Cook, of the New York Rangers, break a tie for first place in the National Hockey League point-scoring race during the past week, but his brother Bun took advantage of prolific Ranger scoring to assume second place.

Lawrence Northcott, of Montreal Maroons, who had shared the leadership of the league with Bill Cook, found his checks too difficult to shake off and dropped back to third place. Northcott and Cook had been deadlocked for two weeks.

Figures issued tonight by President Frank Calder showed Bill Cook has 17 goals, 19 assists, for a total of 36 points. Next is his brother Bun, with a total of 33 points, made up of 20 goals and 13 assists, while Northcott has 20 goals and 12 assists, 32 points.

JACKSON MOVES UP

Scoring three goals in one game at New York during the week, Harvey "Busher" Jackson, of the Toronto Maple Leafs, jumped into a tie with Johnny Gagnon, Canadiens, for third place in the Canadian Section. Each has 29 points, one less than Paul Haynes, Montreal Maroons, who still held second position.

Red Horner, of Maple Leafs, was still the most penalized player by a wide margin, having spent 120 minutes (two full games) on the penalty bench. Chief Johnson followed with 103 minutes.

Security Prices Decline Heavily At Wall Street

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (AP).—Security markets skidded again today, but commodities maintained the leaning toward firmness that characterized them last week.

Stocks experienced most of their decline in the morning, tending to flatten out later. However, sufficient support for a rally was lacking and final prices were around the lows, with net losses in active issues ranging from fractions to about 3 points. Volume amounted to only 858,600 shares.

Generally speaking, stock offerings fell on a thin market, though a few issues pressed for sale in larger volume. One of these was American Can, which tumbled nearly 4 points, recovering a quarter of its loss.

Passage of the prohibition repeal resolution by the House was received quietly. "Wet" stocks were up a little at one time. National Distillers retained only a fraction of a 3-point rise.

A few rails softened sufficiently to bring a point reaction in that group's averages. Such representative industrials as U.S. Steel, Du Pont, Union Carbide, Standard Oil of New Jersey, General Motors, Case, Harvester and National Biscuit sagged fractions to a point. Allied Chemical and American Tobacco "B" lost 2.

Speculation in silver futures obviously reflected hopes that the metal may get help from some of the remonetization schemes now in the air. White metal futures traded briskly and bar silver jumped 3-4 cent to 27 cents an ounce. Cotton enjoyed a rally, but met realizing. Corn and wheat were little changed by closing time.

Led by United States Government issues, the bond market staged a rather ragged retreat today with casualties numerous in all categories. Sales totaled $14,574,000, par value, which was next to the largest day's business of the year.

While weakness was especially noticeable in the Federals, and in German and Japanese obligations, Domestic Corporation maturities generally were off from 1 to 4 or more points.

German Government 5 1-2's were off 2 3-4 and the 7's lost 4 points. Japanese maturities sagged more than 2 points in most instances.

Few of the rails, utilities and industrials of domestic origin, were able to withstand the selling barrage.

WHEAT VALUES DROP SLIGHTLY

Reports of Fairly Good Export Sales Fail to Move Prices Up

WINNIPEG, Feb. 20 (CP).—Wheat futures traded apathetically on the Winnipeg Grain Market today. Even reports of fairly good export sales failed to move prices more than fractionally. Values at the close were 1-4 to 1-8 cent lower.

May delivery ended at 48 cents, July at 48 7-8 to 49 cents, and October at 50 to 50 1-8 cents.

Estimated at approximately 500,000 bushels, further sales of Canadian wheat were made. Four-hundred thousand bushels of this was sold for Spring shipment from Montreal.

The increased demand last week for Canadian wheat was reflected in the large total of 17,704,000 bushels of wheat shipped from all sources. North America supplied 5,551,000 bushels of this.

Cash and coarse grains showed no change, trading quietly throughout the session and closing unchanged.

A cent decline was registered by eggs. Fresh graded extras in carlots or less sold at 20 cents; firsts at 18 cents, pullets at 17 cents and seconds at 16 cents a dozen.

Cheese quotations held steady at 10 to 10 1-2 cents for fresh or recent Ontario colored.

Interlisted Stocks Take Lower Path at Eastern Exchanges

MONTREAL, Feb. 20 (CP).—Discouraged by lack of action in New York, prices dipped fractions to more than three points in the Montreal Stock Exchange today. It was lack of demand rather than heavy liquidation that made the market heavy and transfers for the day totalled only 6,000 shares.

Utilities featured the trading. Bell Telephone declined 2 to 8, new low for the year. Montreal Power dipped 1 1-4 to 28 3-4 while fractional recessions occured in Power Corporation and B.C. Power. Montreal Power debentures, one of two issues to advance, firmed 1-8 to 42 1-4.

Brazilian came within 1-8 of its all-time low, closing at 7 7-8 for a net loss of 1-4. Canadian Pacific broke below 11, finishing at 10 7-8, down 3-8. International Nickel closed slightly above its lowest level of the day at 9 1-8, down 1-4 net.

Ogilvie Flour made its 1933 debut at 108 1-2, down 3 1-2. Bank of Commerce yielded a point to 135, Hollinger was down five cents at 7.90.

Sales totalled 6,254 shares, bonds $19,100.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (AP).—Selling of Ford of Canada and Bell Telephone featured trade on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. The whole market was unsettled by weakness in Wall Street but the interlisted section suffered particularly. International Nickel was taken in quite large doses but the price held within 1-8 of the former price.

The Ford offerings came mostly from New York, brokers reported and 1,800 shares turned over, the stock closing at 6 1-8 for a loss of 1-2. C.P.R. also dropped 1-2 to 11 and Brazilian 3-8 to 7 7-8.

Other utilities accompanied Bell Telephone to a lower close. Phone finished at 84 for a loss of 4 points. Consumers Gas dropped. In the oil section British American at 8 1-8 showed a fractional advance.

All the bank and trust stocks held their ground despite the general weakness and most of the beverage shares finished even while the food stocks divided between losses and gains.

TORONTO MINING MARKET

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (CP).—While the gold and base metal stocks were easing off moderately in today's quiet and hesitating market the silver issues came to the front as a result of the jump in the price of bar silver in New York. After being down 5 points in the morning trading Nipissing pulled up to close with a 1 point gain at 1.65, Eldorado gained 3 in a turnover of 7,000 shares and Castle gained 2 1-2 to 25. Mining Corporation finished unchanged.

In the base metal section Nickel held its loss down to 10 while Noranda dropped 40, Sherritt gained 1 and Falconbridge 3.

No advances appeared in the high-priced gold group. Pioneer closed unchanged at 5.75. McIntyre lost 50, Lakeshore 40, Wright Hargreaves 10, Hollinger and Teck Hughes and Dome closed even.

Weakness extended to the secondary gold shares where moderate losses were taken. Ventures seemed to be under selling pressure, about 13,000 shares trading and the price slipped 4 to 1.05. San Antonio held steady at 97.

Trading has slumped in the penny shares accompanied in many cases by price recessions. Barry Hollinger is back at 13 1-2, Homestead Oil to 13, Vacuum Gas to 3 1-2.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

TOOTHACHE NOT ALWAYS FROM THE TEETH

When you have a toothache there is only one thought in your mind and that is to get immediate relief. You are willing to let the doctor or dentist look for the cause a little later.

However, although you have pain in one or more teeth that pain may be caused by other conditions entirely.

Sometimes the pain is in the tooth itself and sometimes in the tissues surrounding the tooth.

Your dentist if in doubt asks questions and makes certain tests thus:

1. In acute inflammation of the pulp of the tooth pain is sharp, shooting, stabbing, whereas, at first anyway, inflammation in the gums is dull, steady, and gnawing.

2. Testing the suspected teeth with heat or cold is of great value. If the pulp of the tooth itself is inflamed the pain increases, whereas if the inflammation is in the gum or tissue around the tooth there is no change in the pain.

3. Tapping the suspected teeth gives severe pain if inflammation is in the surrounding tissue, and no change with inflammation of the pulp of the teeth, provided of course, that the inflammation of the pulp has not extended right into the gums.

4. Placing a wisp of cotton-wool in the cavity. With an inflamed pulp this is painful, but naturally has no effect if the inflammation is in the surrounding tissue and not in the tooth.

In addition to the pain from the inflamed pulp or the inflamed gum, there may be a "neuralgic" pain from other causes as pointed out by Dr. L. E. Claremont, London, England.

1. Wrong and difficult growing position of the teeth.
2. Diseases of the nose and sinuses.
3. Diseases of the eye.
4. Compression of the little nerves by boney or fibrous tissue.
5. Growths about the teeth.
6. Some general or systemic disease of the body—anaemia, gout, influenza, and other conditions.
7. Nerve or brain affections.

Thus, toothache may mean a great deal more than an inflammation of the pulp (which includes the nerve) or of the soft tissues around the teeth.

This means that the dentist after making a thorough examination of the patient's mouth is able to report to the physician that the pain is due to the teeth or the tissues about the teeth, or that search must be made elsewhere in the body.

Master: "Why are you so late for school this morning?"

Johnny (breathless): "P-please, s-sir, I dreamt I was at a football match which ended in a draw, and the referee ordered extra time to be played, so I stopped to see the finish."

"Poor little dicky bird! You shall feel in absolute security again."—Muskete, Vienna.

RICH DERBY DRAWS BIG ENTRY LIST

One Hundred and Eighteen Nominated for U.S. Turf Classic on May 6

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 20 (AP).—One hundred and eighteen of the finest three-year-olds were named today to compete May 6 in America's premier turf event, the Kentucky Derby.

Announcement of the nominations was made by Colonel M. J. Winn, executive director of Churchill Downs. It showed that eighty colts, thirty-three geldings and five fillies, representing practically every worth-while young thoroughbred in the country, will be eligible to race for the $50,000 added purse and the fame that first came to Aristides, the "Little Red Hoss" of fifty-eight years ago.

CANADIAN HORSE ENTERED

Eastern stables, led by those in New York, dominate the list for the fifty-ninth running of the Derby that annually attracts thousands of persons. There are entries from other states, from Virginia to Tennessee to California and Texas, and one foreign entry, Tractable, a chestnut gelding from the Hastings stable in Canada. Only one imported racer, Omar Khayyam, in 1917, ever won the Derby and this year's list carries, aside from Tractable, only one imported racer, Knockaway, one of the three nominations of W. E. Smith.

Among the prime favorites thus far are the Winter book favorite from W. R. Coe's stable, Lady's Man, speedy son of Pompey, which made an unsuccessful effort to win the Derby in 1926; C. V. Whitney's Caterwaul; Mrs. Payne Whitney's Dynastic; Mrs. W. Crump's Head Play; Lee Rosenberg's Kerry Punch, which defeated Lady's Man in the futurity at Belmont last year; Repaid, from James and Johnson's Quincy stable, which subsequently defeated Kerry Patch and Caterwaul in the junior champion stakes at Aqueduct.

ENGLISH STARS ARE FEATURED

"There Goes the Bride" Is New British Motion Picture Success Showing at Capitol

"There Goes the Bride," the Gainsborough-British Lion success appearing at the Capitol Theatre which Albert de Courville directed, and in which Jessie Matthews makes an amazingly successful screen debut with Owen Nares, is so rich in amusing sequences that it is difficult to say which is the funniest. There are many who will be tickled by that incident associated with the "theft" of the pearl necklace of the hostess. The general belief is that the theft is just a prank on the part of the more high-spirited guests. Very well, then, the lights shall be lowered, and the culprit shall have an opportunity of replacing the jewels on the salver. Lights are lowered, lit again. Not only is the necklace not replaced, but the salver has disappeared, too!

Then there is that delightful interlude in which an aggrieved ex-fiance (Carol Goodner) approaches the magistrate and charges Annette Marquand (Jessie Matthews) with stealing her fiance. Owen Nares plays opposite Miss Matthews in a role for which he is ideally suited.

Also on the same bill is "No Greater Love," a dramatic drama starring Alexander Cair and Beryl Mercer.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Peggy Shannon, who has played chiefly society and tom-boy roles, appears as a girl who can take care of herself in any company in "The Painted Woman," the Fox picture now playing at the Playhouse Theatre in which she is co-featured with Spencer Tracy. William Boyd, Irving Pichel, Raul Roullen, Laska Winter and other celebrities are in the cast, and provide plenty of complications for the unique romance between the two principals. John Blystone directed, with Guy Bolton and Leon Gordon writing the screen version of A. C. Kennedy's original play.

DOMINION THEATRE Edward G. Robinson, star of "Silver Dollar," a First National picture now at the Dominion Theatre, has the most dazzling role of his career in a character that parallels that of Haw Tabor, Colorado's sensational Silver King in the days of the gold rush and silver strikes. An unusually strong cast includes Bebe Daniels, Aline MacMahon, Jobyna Howland, DeWitt Jennings, Robert Warwick, Russell Simpson, Harry Holman and Charles Middleton.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capitol — Owen Nares, in "There Goes the Bride."
Columbia—"By Whose Hand," starring Ben Lyon.
Dominion—Edward Robinson, in "The Silver Dollar."
Empire—"Money Means Nothing," featuring John Loder.
Playhouse—Spencer Tracy, in "The Painted Woman."
Romano—"The Last Flight," with Dick Barthelmess.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Helene Millard felt perfectly at home in one scene in "By Whose Hand?" Columbia's mystery melodrama showing at the Columbia Theatre. It was a shot where Helent is one of those persons who likes collecting souvenirs while on board boats, trains, and so forth. Miss Millard's role in "By Whose Hand?" is an important, but a silent one. During two weeks of acting she spoke only one line!

"LONDON WALL" TO BE GIVEN THIS EVENING

The Theatre Club's production of "London Wall," to be given tonight and tomorrow at the Crystal Garden, in aid of the recreation room for unemployed, is their second presentation since their formation last year.

The play is a modern story of London business life, by John Van Druten, and will be presented by an excellent cast. Members of the office staff are portrayed by Barbara Hall, Noel Cusack, Betty Jennings, and Gladys Sheppard, with Herbert E. Pott as Brewer, the office manager, and Christopher Frere as the Cockney clerk. H. F. Hewett plays Mr. Walker, the senior member of the firm, while Mme. Scott-Burritt and David Denbigh play respectively the rich eccentric and the hesitant lover.

The play is produced by Christopher Frere, and Mme. Bella Dobree is musical director.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

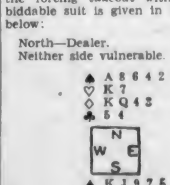

This is the twelfth of a series of fourteen articles by Mr. Culbertson, dealing with the additions and refinements made necessary in contract bidding by the new scoring. The principles of the Culbertson system remain unchanged, but the changes made by the law makers created new conditions, with which these articles specifically deal.

FORCING WITH AN UNBIDDABLE SUIT

One of the additions made to the Culbertson system, which has already proved its worth in actual play, is the making of a forcing takeout on an unbiddable suit, even if only three cards in length, provided that suit is headed by the ace. This bid is made, of course, only after partner has opened the bidding and the responding hand holds at least three and one-half honor tricks and a super-eminent fit in partner's bid suit. The question involved is not one of game, but of slam, which can easily be made, provided the hands fit. To force with a three-card suit, the suit selected for the force must be headed by the ace and must be lower ranking than the suit bid by the partner. This, of course, is just plain common sense; otherwise, an unmakeable contract might be reached, as with the three cards of the suit, the chances are more than even that partner will hold length in the same suit, and if the suit outranks the suit originally bid, the result is likely to be nothing but disaster.

An example of this new use of the forcing takeout with a non-biddable suit is given in the hand below:

North—Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

The bidding: (Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

North	South
1♠	2◇(1)
4◇(2)	4NT(3)
5◇(4)	6♠(5)
Pass

1. After North's opening spade bid, South's hand is obviously too strong to bid only four spades. On the other hand, it is not strong enough to bid six. Five spades would merely confuse the issue and hinder rather than help the exchange of information. Thus the force with the three-card diamond suit. If North raises the diamonds too high, South can always return to the higher ranking spade suit.

2. This is the exact information which South was seeking. The slam is now assured.

3. Using the four and five no-trump convention; the bid in this instance discloses that South holds two aces and the king of a bid suit. Inasmuch as North holds the king of diamonds, this shows him that South holds the king of spades.

4. A minimum response. North holds only one ace, which is disclosed by his failure to bid five no-trump. The danger of bidding an unmakeable grand slam is thus avoided.

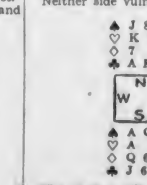

5. Knowing that North holds only one ace, as was shown by his response to the four no-trump bid, South now contracts for the slam in spades.

Through a series of brilliant bids, the ultimate trick-taking power of the two hands has been ascertained.

TOMORROW'S HAND

If you held the South hand pictured below and opened the bidding with one spade, to which your partner responded with two clubs, what would you now bid and why?

South—Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

The answer will be given tomorrow.

COAL IMPORTS PROVE KNOTTY

Committee of Chamber of Commerce Not Yet Ready to Report on Subject

The special committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which has in hand the subject of importing British coal to Vancouver Island, was not ready to report at yesterday's meeting of the directors of the Chamber. W. T. Straith asked for further time before making any recommendation.

Mr. Straith said the subject matter with which the committee had to deal was complicated. The difficulty arose over the low rate at which the British coal was introduced, which was, perhaps, one-third of the regular rate. It thus constituted really a matter of dumping and if this kind of competition was to be encountered by the Island producers, it would become serious.

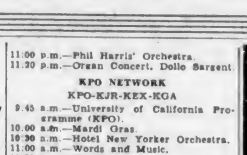

The committee, said Mr. Straith, fully sympathized with the Island producers in the matter. There was the question of inter-Empire trade development also to be kept in mind, which further complicated the matter.

THAT WORD "HARPY"

In the rare instances when writers have sought a word to describe a malicious, vulture-like woman, one to whom the odious qualities of "a Xantippe" were as nothing, they have called her harpy. And the word has found its way into popular speech where it is frequently used without an understanding of its true significance.

"Harpy" comes to us from the parlance of Greek mythology. In an account of the adventures of Aeneas and his band of refugees from their sacked city of Troy, when the wanderers land their ship on the island of the Harpies we find this description of the ladies they found there:

"—The daughters of the earth and sea,
The dreadful snatchers, who like women were
Down to the breast, with scanty coarse black hair
About their heads, and dim eyes ringed with red,
And bestial mouths set round with lips of lead,
But from their gnarled necks there began to spring
Half hair, half feathers, and a sweeping wing
Grew out instead of arm on either side."

It is doubtless from the circumstance that the harpies were sent by the gods on errands of vengeance that their name came to be applied to a woman of cruel, malicious or revengeful nature.

Hoose is a disease of sheep due to the presence of parasites in the bronchial tube.
